COOK TO INVESTIGATE

THE COUNTY REGISTRATION

Republicans and Progressives Claim That Fraud Has Been Committed on Voters

After considerable discussion the affairs of the registration office of Alameda county are to be thoroughly investigated. The public will appreciate the announcement made by County Clerk John P. Cook that he is going to personally take charge of the registration of this county from now until July 15. Charges have been made that voters of Alameda county have been deprived of their rights in the matter of party affiliation by partisan deputies, who, after they registered their victims, changed their party affiliation.

THE TRIBUNE does not believe that the registration is all one-sided, but on the contrary it is probable that the county clerk will find some delinquencies on the Republican side as well as on the Progressive end of the registration contest. It is interesting to note, however, that County Clerk Cook states that there are six deputies who are registering voters under the Progressive banner as follows: R. Lutz, J. W. McCoy, Milton Klein, H. Kronich, J. G. Brown and J. Dimond.

PROGRESSIVE COMPLAINT.
These deputies were appointed by County Clerk Cook to do outside work and have devoted much of their time to registering people of the ferry boats. It is charged by the Republican organization that the affidavits returned by these deputies in many cases show that they have been mutilated and that the word Republican has been changed to Progressive. It is a singular coincidence, as County Clerk Cook pointed out, that almost every 15 out of 20 registrations turned in by these deputies announce that the party affiliations of the affiant is Progressive. The Progressive party, secretary of the central committee of the Progressive party, declares in a communication filed with County Clerk Cook that "we have several hundred complaints as to the methods employed by these deputies and a good many affidavits that the deputies have misrepresented the party affiliation with the parties registering, in many cases the parties registering being told that there was no Progressive party, that the Progressives were a part of the Republican party and that the Progressive party and the Republican party were the same. This was particularly true in the case of women registering. We will call your attention to one deputy whose case was particularly flagrant, Luther Simpson."

The deputies referred to by the Progressive secretary as registering Republicans as against Progressives are W. H. Church, P. F. Michaelson, P. P. McDonald, H. Brintach, Edward Roach, E. Decker, D. W. Doody, A. L. Perkins, Mary E. Rains, L. C. Simpson.

SERIOUS CHARGES.

In view of the fact that many serious charges have been made by both sides regarding registration, it is well that a full and complete investigation should now be made by County Clerk Cook.

Mr. Cook made the announcement today that he proposes to give everybody a fair and square deal regarding the registration. He has sent out thousands of letters today asking people how they desire to be registered. It is hoped that the county clerk will not limit his investigation to any one party, but that he will give every party a fair deal.

It is to be hoped that every voter in Alameda county will be registered according to his wishes and under the party designation that he desires. What the people of this county want to see is a fair and square registration.

Advantage shall be taken by deputy registration clerks of any voter in this county.

Now that this matter has come up for investigation it is important for the voters themselves to take an active interest in the matter. It is the duty of every voter in Alameda county not only to see that he is registered, but to see that he or she is registered under the party affiliation that they desire.

SQUARE DEAL FOR ALL.

County Clerk Cook says: "I propose from this time on until the close of registration, which is on July 25, to take personal charge of the registration in this county. I am here to see that every voter is registered according to his wishes and I am going to make an inquiry as to the methods employed by all my outside deputies. It is my duty to see that every voter is registered according to his wishes and it is to this end I have started this investigation. I am not a candidate for re-election and I will give every party a square deal in my office and carry out the law to the best of my ability. Alameda county has a large registration and when the voters go to the polls on the primary I want them to be able to vote under the party designation they wish. Everybody will get a square deal and if any voter has a complaint that he has not been registered under the proper party designation I will see to it that his or her wishes are complied with at once. Any communication addressed to me by a voter of this county will receive prompt attention."

APPOINTED P. O. INSPECTOR.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Walter M. Cookson, who has been city postoffice inspector under James O'Connor, today received word from Postmaster General Burleson appointing him postoffice inspector of Los Angeles, a higher position than the one which he has held.

PENDLETON, Ore., July 2.—One robber was killed and another desperado and Deputy Sheriff M. C. Duffy of Heppner, Ore., were wounded during a gun battle that occurred in a chair car on Oregon-Washington Railroad & Navigation passenger train No. 5, westbound, early today, when three masked bandits held up the train two miles east of Menzies, 50 miles east of Pendleton, and robbed the passengers and express car.

The wounded robber and his companion escaped into the wild mountainous country and two posesses are in pursuit. One is led by Deputy Sheriff James Estes and Joseph Blakeley of this city, and another has started out from La Grande.

The aged woman, with her daughter, Mrs. S. Jackson, of San Francisco, sat in the courtroom throughout the proceedings. She screamed as sentence was imposed and was hurried from the courtroom. "I would have tried to make good on probation," declared Duncan bitterly, as the probation officer report was filed, advising against it, "but my relatives, in their mistaken ideas,

California Volcano Is Again Sending Smoke
High Into Air

REDDING, Cal., July 2.—For the third time in the last forty-eight hours, Lassen peak was brought into eruption again today. The outburst is the fifteenth in the series that began May 30, and except that its duration was not so great, was almost an exact duplicate of yesterday's disturbance.

A meteorological phenomenon hitherto unmentioned was reported today, however, for the first time. Observers on the slopes of the mountain sent word that all the recent eruptions have been followed by severe thunder storms at the summit. Violent thunderstorms, usually accompanied by astonishing displays of lightning, are a regular concomitant of volcanic action. In the terrible eruption of Mount Pelee, which destroyed St. Pierre, in the West Indies, the thunderstorm of the celestial fires almost equalled the spectacle itself.

TODAY'S OUTBURST SUDDEN.
Today's outburst, which began at 8:30 a. m., continued with unabated vigor for half an hour. Again there was the same upshot of ash-laden steam, gradually fanning out into a huge overshadowing cloud. Gradually the black pillar whitened and bent before the wind. Then ashes began to fall at a distance between 15 and 20 miles.

The air is very hazy, and the sun sets blood red, an appearance ascribed to the presence in the air of suspended particles of impalpable volcanic dust. The reported sinking of Lake Manzanita, at the base of the peak proper, is untrue. As a matter of fact the level of the little lake was slightly higher today than it has been.

No flames or lava have been seen yet.

J. P. MORGAN PAYS
VISIT TO WILSON

First of Conferences
With "Big Business" Men Is Held

WASHINGTON, July 2.—J. P. Morgan and President Wilson had nearly an hour's conference today at the White House on general conditions.

It was the first of a series of talks the President proposes in the near future with captains of industry and finance, learning their views and giving his own on the industrial and financial situation of the country, as well as measures in Congress.

White House officials said the conference between the President and Morgan had been just a friendly discussion of the general subject. Morgan refused to state what had taken place.

As he stepped into his carriage, he said: "My visit with the President was very cordial. You will have to ask him what we talked about."

TALK IS REMINISCENT.
President Wilson told inquiries later that in his talk with Morgan business conditions generally had been discussed and that Morgan had expressed no opinion of whether business was good or bad. He added that he has known Morgan a long time, and that their talk was largely reminiscent.

Speaking of business conditions, generally, the president said the attorney of business men seemed to be growing in favor of the administration's trust program. In all of his correspondence with business men, he has expressed no specific objection to the anti-trust program.

The president compared the opposition to the anti-trust bills to the opposition which preceded the passage of the currency bill. He said he conjectured that probably the objections to both bills would be similar.

FIRE FOUGHT

AND MEN

50 Buildings and Many

Blaze Beyond Control
Sweeps Over More
Than 20 Acres

MARE ISLAND NAVY YARD, July 2.—Destruction of the fifty buildings and huge ship yards on Mare Island by fire and explosion with heavy loss of life, was imminent for hours this morning, when flames swept over more than twenty acres of the south end of the island, devastating the land and coming many times within a short distance of the great magazines and powder houses.

The fire was set by Navy Yard employees, as a precautionary measure, to clear off the dried grass in the shipyard area. A wind rising, the blaze got beyond the control of the men and swept like a prairie fire across the expanse of the island, visible for miles.

Only the military discipline of the garrison prevented millions of dollars of loss. General alarms were promptly sounded. All the sailors, marines and workmen on the island were pressed into emergency service. Commodore Bennett took personal command.

After several hours, the fire was fought off in one direction, only to approach from another. Several times disaster seemed near. The flames came close to one or other of the great buildings containing powder and ammunition. Had one such arsenal exploded, the whole island plant of fifty buildings would have gone up, with great loss of life, it is said.

But the fire was turned back and finally quenched.

TEACHERS REVOLT

English Instructors to Secede
From Association: Overworked, Claim.

BERKELEY, July 2.—The teachers of English in the schools of California are in open revolt. The rebellion started when the English section of the California High School association was held this morning at the pathological laboratory. They expressed themselves in no uncertain terms and the grounds of their secession are declared to be the following:

The teachers of English are only partially responsible for the alleged poor language used by high school graduates.

The teachers of English are too much set upon by their fellow pedagogues.

The teachers of English want better conditions of labor.

The revolt found chief expression in the decision of the instructors to go as a body into the California English association, which was organized last April. In addition several of the teachers embraced membership in the organization as individuals.

What the Merchants of Alameda County Think of
THE TRIBUNE

As for years past The Tribune maintains its supremacy as an advertising medium, standing so far above The Enquirer in amount of business carried that there is no comparison.

Every local merchant continues to use The Tribune for his advertising at a ratio of from two to eight times the amount placed in The Enquirer.

This is first-class and indisputable evidence of the value of the two papers in Alameda County.

Following is the amount of advertising space in column inches appearing in the various papers for the month of June:

Examiner	59,910 inches
TRIBUNE	56,892 inches
Chronicle	36,156 inches
Call	27,577 inches
Enquirer	27,537 inches
Bulletin	26,902 inches

REPUBLICANS WELL ORGANIZED

Registration of Voters Will Be Urged by the Workers

With the organization of a county central committee and the establishment of headquarters, the Republicans of Alameda county are now in a position to make a winning campaign. The announcement in yesterday's issue of THE TRIBUNE that this committee had met, elected officers and appointed committees to carry on the work was received with great satisfaction and members of the party were jubilant.

It was asserted at headquarters that all who had been selected were "on their toes" ready to do any duty devolving upon them as members, either in an individual or collective capacity.

Between this and the next meeting, next Tuesday evening, work will be of a character calculated to unify lines of action will be mapped out and by the time the next session assembles there will be work done which will enable the committee to proceed on definite lines.

It was one of the committee to nominate its officers and will not return until Monday, but his conference is busy looking over the ground and a conference will follow his return.

It was stated today that the committee as an entirety is very optimistic. The selections made by the organization committee last Tuesday evening insure success in all branches of the work and at the coming session, it is expected, plans will be so definite that activity will be maintained in every line of action.

Registration is one of the first matters to receive attention and those not on the lists will be urged to attend to that duty. Persons registering under wrong impressions will be given attention and shown how to change their party affiliations, in order to enable them to vote for the candidates of the party at the primaries.

A big gathering of Republicans greeted Congressman Joseph R. Knowland at the meeting held in Palo Alto under the auspices of the Palo Alto Republican Club. Congressman Knowland will be orator of the day at the Monterey Fourth of July celebration, which will be held under the auspices of the Monterey Lodge of Moose.

A big delegation from the Alameda county lodges of Moose will attend the celebration, going by special train, and Knowland will accompany it. Knowland is past dictator of Alameda Lodge of Moose. Mrs. Knowland will accompany the Congressman.

Sunday, July 5, Congressman Knowland will attend the big Native Sons' celebration in San Jose and will leave for Los Angeles Sunday evening. He is to address the Los Angeles Woman's Civic Club on Monday.

Some time ago it was announced that Dr. James D. Bullitt of San Jose would make the race for Congress in the Eighth District against A. E. Hayes, Republican incumbent. Dr. Bullitt being a Democrat. But it appears that Dr. Bullitt is shy, notwithstanding he is one of the original dyed-in-the-wool F. V.'s and a Bourbon reared in the shadow of Monticello. As a result of this condition the party members are casting about for another man, but thus far with little success. George W. Smith, a rising young lawyer of Watsonville, with Democratican proclivities, was mentioned and it is stated a committee approached him, only to learn that he is a candidate for district attorney and is bent on making the race for that position. Monterey county was next canvassed, but no one appeared to be willing to make the sacrifice, although it was pointed out that James B. Holohan, who ran two years ago, had ridden the United States Marshalship following his overwhelming defeat by Mr. Hayes. Consequently the Democrats of the Eighth are in a quandary, and it is related that another assault will be made on Bullitt. Dr. Bullitt, by the way, is an available man. He has a pleasing personality, is a booster from "away back" and his wealth is unimpaired.

Samuel M. Shortridge is in Sacramento today, addressing the colored Chautauqua convention at McKinley Park.

Nomination papers for Julius Kahn of San Francisco to succeed himself in Congress have been filed with the Secretary of State.

L. G. Zumwalt of Colusa, who has made the race for Congress on the Democratic ticket twice against William Kent, being beaten in the last contest by approximately 200 votes, is quoted as having said that he will likely enter the race.

A club which has for its objects the advancing of the candidacy of Charles A. Strong for the Republican nomination for the Assembly from the Thirty-seventh District has been organized in the One Hundred and Thirtieth Precinct of that district. On the executive committee are: J. J. McKeehan, S. D. Gibbs, Mrs. Metta M. Fenton, Miss D. B. Cooley and A. J. Stachey.

Hamilton A. Bauer of San Mateo, formerly a member of the State Senate, has filed a nominating petition with the Secretary of State as a candidate for lieutenant-governor on the Republican ticket. This nomination is the second to be filed. A. L. Shinn of Sacramento having announced an intention of contesting for the place by putting a declaration on file.

County Surveyor Hazard will be a candidate to succeed himself and so far other aspirants for the place has announced himself.

Associate Justice Frank M. Angellotti, candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, has returned from a visit to the southern end of the State and reports that he finds conditions favorable. Judge Walter Bordwell of Los Angeles, who recently entered the race, has a strong following, but Justice Angellotti maintains that he is not disturbed by the announcement. An Angellotti campaign committee has been formed in the South, of which H. W. O'Melveny is chairman and F. A. Stephenson secretary. Other members are: W. J. Hunsaker, Senator L. H. Roseberry, E. A. Meeserve, Marshall Simson, Russ Avery, Walter Haas, John G. Mott, W. J. Varrel, Wheaton A. Gray, W. A. Hervey, Frank F. Flint, George F. Adams, W. H. Fuller, O. A. Trippe, E. W. Britt, E. B. Drake, I. B. Jockeiler, J. Wiscran MacDonald, Seward A. Simons and Bradner W. Lee.

The bar of Modesto county has endorsed the candidacy of Justice Lucien Shaw of the Supreme Court, and in a series of strong resolutions has urged that he be re-elected.

Nomination papers filed in the office of the county clerk thus far are as follows: Charles Frouze for Justice of the peace of Eden Township; Frank Mitchell same; W. J. Ramage, constable Eden Township; Louis E. Rose, justice of the peace, Washington Township; G. Serafin Caldera, justice of the peace, Washington Township; R. B. Tappan, justice of the peace, Alameda City; Elmer E. Johnson, justice of the peace, Alameda Township; Al Kihn, constable, Alameda Township; Robert Edgar, justice of the peace, Berkeley; George S. Fitzgerald, justice of the peace, Murray Township; P. C. Irwin, justice of the peace, Pleasanton; Manuel Borze, constable, Eden Township; C. H. Frasen, member of Democratic County Committee, Alameda County.

Judge William M. Conley, candidate for Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, began his tour of the cities between San Francisco and Los Angeles yesterday, visiting his friends in San Mateo. Judge Conley will be present in San Jose on the Fourth of July, where as a past grand juror of the Northern District he will take a prominent part.

He will then proceed down the coast, stopping at the principal cities along the way. His itinerary calls for visits to Santa Cruz, Watsonville, Gilroy, Salinas, Monterey, Santa Barbara and Ventura. When he reaches Los Angeles, about the 10th of the month, Judge Conley will establish Southern headquarters there and will carry on a campaign in the nearby centers of population. He plans to return to San Francisco, where he has headquarters at the Alhambra Hotel, about the 25th of August.

Francis J. Henev will return to the bay city region tomorrow, and Tuesday evening will hold a meeting in Berkeley at the High School auditorium.

Mrs. Susie Hamm of Ceres, Stanislaus county, is a candidate for county clerk. Thus far she is the only woman in the State running for that position.

Ed L. Head, keeper of the State archives at Sacramento, is a candidate for State Treasurer on the Republican ticket. Mr. Head was for many years cashier for the Spring Valley Water Company, president of the California Mutual Fund Building and Loan Association and a member of the board of education of San Francisco for two terms. He is a prominent fraternal order man, having been grand treasurer of the Eagles for five years. He is past president of Stanford Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West, a leading Odd Fellow and a member of the Loyal Order of Moose.

Jo. K. Snyder of Nevada City, former member of the Assembly and an old-time newspaper man, is a candidate for lieutenant-governor on the Democratic ticket.

Yolo county registration shows the Republicans in the lead. The figures are: Republicans 1380, Democrats 1146, Progressives 335, Socialists 77, Prohibitionists 15. Republican Progressives 2, declined to state 242.

Supporters of Hon. Joseph R. Knowland for United States Senator met in Vallejo last Saturday evening and endorsed his candidacy. It was pointed out by all who addressed the meeting that the record Mr. Knowland had made in supporting the Mare Island navy yard, the deepening of the channel and other measures had resulted in great good to Vallejo, and therefore he was the right man in the right place. The resolutions in his favor were strongly worded and adopted unanimously.

Francis V. Keesling will start his campaign for governor on the Republican ticket at a rally in Petaluma tonight. He will speak at Sebastopol Friday noon. George A. Van Smith, Keesling's manager, has completed a July campaign itinerary in Northern California, which is as follows:

Monday, July 6, Vallejo; Tuesday, July 7, Sonoma, Santa Rosa, Ukiah, Willits; Wednesday, July 8, Arbutus, Williams, Colusa, Willits; Thursday, July 9, Redding; Friday, July 10, Red Bluff (noon), Chico; Saturday, July 11, Oroville, Gridley, Marysville, Yuba City; Sunday, July 12, Sacramento; Monday, July 13, side trips to Roseville, Lincoln, Auburn; Tuesday, July 14, Lodi, Galt, Stockton; Wednesday, July 15, Modesto, Turlock, Merced; Thursday, July 16, Madera, Fresno; Friday, July 17, Fowler, Exeter, Selma, Tulare, Visalia; Saturday, July 18, and Sunday, July 19, Bakersfield; Monday, July 20, Porterville, Hanford, Lemoore.

Democrats lead in the registration in Fresno county. The figures are: Democrats 8553, Republicans 7553, Progressives 4699, Prohibitionists 2113, Independents 99, uncounted to state 1122.

Ted C. Atwood of Sacramento has announced his candidacy for the State Board of Equalization in the second district as a Republican.

Nomination papers have been filed with

H. A. Bauer, San Francisco, for lieutenant-governor, Republican.

Julius Kahn, San Francisco, for reelection to Congress from the Fourth District, Republican.

Frederick L. Head, San Francisco, for Congress, Fifth District; Prohibition.

George Golder, Berkeley, for re-election as assemblyman, Fourteenth District; Progressives.

Leo R. Friedman, San Francisco, for assemblyman, Thirtieth District; Republican.

WOMEN STAND BY KNOWLAND

California Woman's Republican Club Organized for Primary Contest.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The California Women's Republican Club, which was organized in San Francisco last Saturday at the home of Mrs. Florence Richmond, held its second meeting yesterday in the Rose room of the Hotel St. Francis.

Although only four days had intervened since the initial proceedings, a representative body of Republican women was present, among them a noteworthy delegation from the East bay cities.

Ten o'clock was the hour summoned for the opening, but fully half an hour elapsed before the drop of the president's gavel announced that all was in readiness. The interval, however, was not wasted, for in scattered groups, for intimate, preliminary discussions of campaign plans and the election outlook.

When Mrs. Florence Richmond finally called the meeting to order it was with a foreword of greetings in the name of the California Woman's Republican Club, which, later in the forenoon all present were invited to join as charter members.

KNOWLAND ENDORSED. In brief eulogistic terms President Richmond dwelt upon the fact that the California Woman's Republican Club had, in the beginning, endorsed the candidacy of the Hon. Joseph R. Knowland for United States Senator from California.

The further announcement that Mrs. Knowland was present, and would be heard later, evoked enthusiastic applause. Attention was next called to the presence, among the presiding officers, of "that brilliant woman," Mrs. Helen E. Williams, candidate for nomination to the office of Lieutenant Governor of California, and who has the hearty endorsement of the California Woman's Republican Club.

Prolonged handclapping, to which Mrs. Williams bowed responsive, followed the announcement. At this juncture a flourish was caused by Virginia Deas, chairman of the committee on organization, who approached the executive desk, laden with two large bouquets of red roses. One, represented the congratulations, the approval and hearty support of Mayor Rolph who was presented by a previous engagement from appearing at the meeting.

CLUB SENDS GREETINGS. The second bouquet was presented with the compliments of Mrs. William Savage and of Mrs. Brems, president and secretary, respectively, of the Sunset Republican Club.

Mrs. C. G. Cheffins, accompanied by Mrs. Edward Oullahan, formerly of Stockton, rendered two patriotic songs, "My California," and "My Own United States."

Immediately following the pleasant interruption caused by the floral presentations, the minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted, and new signatories obtained to the club enrollment.

Miss Virginia Deas did not speak at length on the plan of organization, because of yet uncompleted details.

A telegram from Mrs. W. S. Englebright of Nevada City and Grass Valley, gave assurance of the sturdy support of the northern part of California, after which Mrs. Richmond read a detailed plan of the unit system of ten under which the organization is to work.

QUESTIONS REDUCED. Put to vote, the plan met with unanimous approval, one change only being made. On Mrs. Knowland's suggestion, dues were reduced from a prospective "20 cents" a month, to "10 cents," and members were urged to pay five months in advance, because of the urgent need of campaign funds with which to prosecute the work.

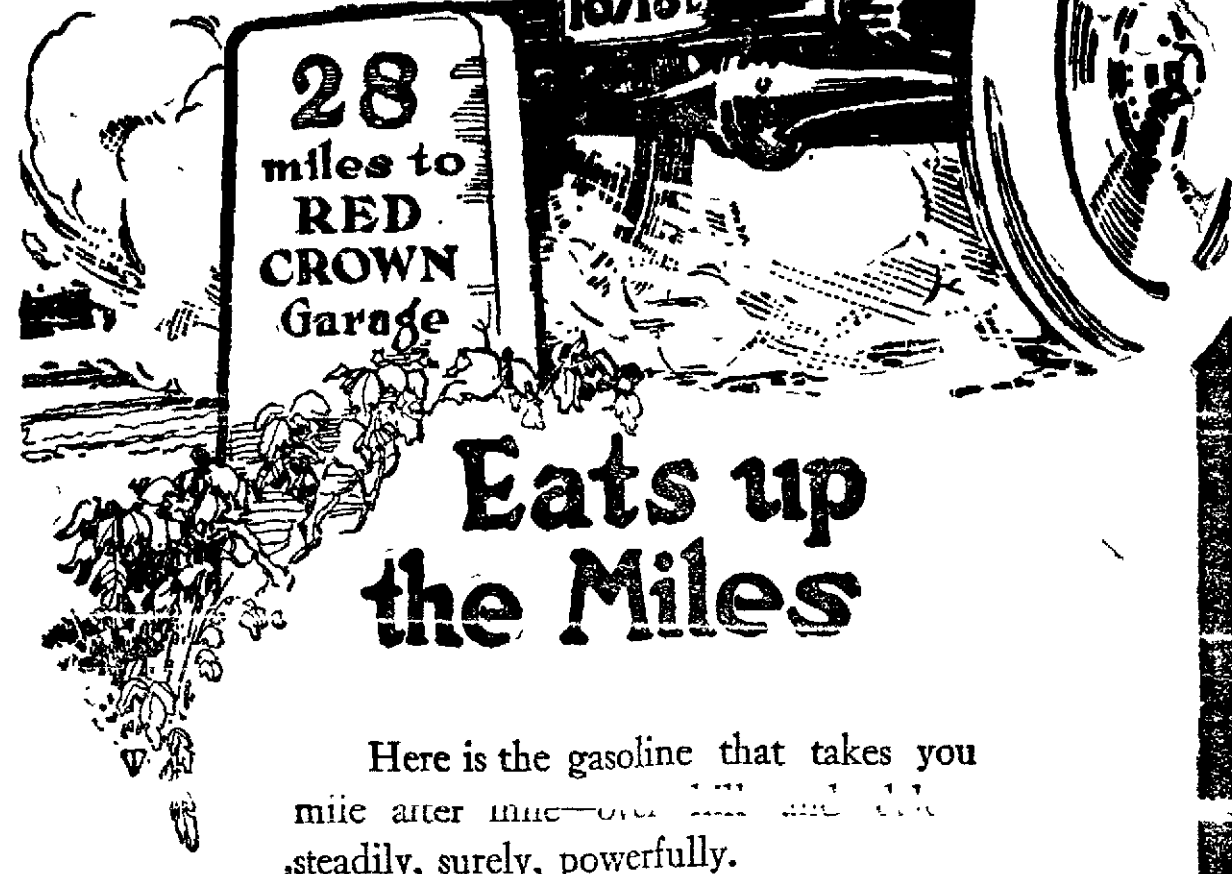

Mrs. Nellie E. Cushing of Contra Costa county offered her assistance in furthering the cause, and Mrs. Hanson of the Swedish Club, stated that though the organization which she represented had no political affiliations, most of the Swedish people were Republicans. Mrs. Hanson offered to do all in her power to further the success of the campaign.

Mrs. Eugene Duffey was made chairman of the Twenty-seventh district of the county.

Charles Lurker, chairman of the ur-lineage representatives.

MRS. CHAMBERLAIN, CHAIRMAN.

Mrs. Charles S. Chamberlain of Oakland was elected to the chairmanship of the Oakland and Alameda County Auxiliary, and the nominations being then closed, cries of "speech!" "speech!" brought the candidate for Lieutenant Governorship to her feet. In a few brief sentences she pleaded to be excused, having spoken for several hours on Monday. She pledged herself for the meet-clusion, "is only another proof that love is blind."

Needless to add that Mrs. Knowland appreciates the Democratic humor, while not agreeing with the editorial statements. "However," announced Mrs. Knowland, "I did not come here to talk about my husband."

SPEAKS ON MEASURES. Instead, she chose to dwell upon questions affecting the country at large, and measures before Congress which Mr. Knowland in his special capacity at Washington, has fought.

The high cost of living, which the Democrats, upon assuming office, had promised to so speedily reduce was instanced as one case in which the Democratic party had failed to make good its promises," she said. "The egg industry of California, sugar beet growing, the wool industry, have been forced to the wall through the present policy, were all brought forward in argument tending to show needed reform. Most of all, though, as appropriate to the occasion, Mrs. Knowland talked of equal suffrage, a measure for which Mr. Knowland has always unequivocally stood. She brought into vivid contrast the two great parades at Washington, in both of which she participated. It will be remembered that in the last one Congressman Knowland marched, side by side with his wife and daughter, bearing the magnificent banner of the State of California. "They were received," said the speaker, "with cheers all along the line." At the time of the first parade, the militia had been called out to protect the marchers. Great strides in public sentiment had been made since then, but the fact was emphasized that the various committees to whom petitions for national suffrage were presented, had failed to effect the prayer for reform. Fast of all President Wilson's attitude on the question of the return to power of the Republican party, for whose principles the Hon. Joseph R. Knowland is a strong advocate.

WHITE APPOINTS NEW DETECTIVE SERGEANT. SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Patrolman Thomas Furman who organized the white slave bureau of the police department, was today promoted to the rank of detective sergeant, by Chief of Police White.

The position carries with it a salary of $150 a month. A short time ago Furman was removed from the head of the white slave bureau by Captain of Detectives McGowan, who followed a controversy over the issue. Furman was removed from his position and sent to the inside station. Furman was then restored to the rank of patrolman with the result of his appointment to the higher position today. Chief White said that the appointment was made for efficiency and on account of his fine record as an officer.

J. P. MORGAN AND WILSON CONFER

sulted from the failure of the opponents of the measures to read the bills.

ARE PERSONAL FRIENDS.

It was said at the White House that Morgan had asked for the engagement and it was explained that the two men are personal friends. Another version of the story was that Morgan had been invited through friends to give his views to the President.

Next week the President will have an informal conference with Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, who will be entertained at luncheon at the White House. It

Officials close to the President said Wilson would take such an opportunity to outline his views to the heads of big business in person.

Morgan's engagement was more or less of a surprise to those who have observed the course the President has taken since he entered the White House in having conferences with captains of industry.

INCONSISTENCY POINTED OUT.

It has been pointed out that the President receiving the big men of business, although when the currency bill was in progress through Congress, the President even declined to receive some members of the Morgan firm.

By a series of informal conferences with leaders of industry and finance, of which Morgan and Ford will be the first, it is the idea to show that the President is approaching the subject with an open mind, willing to hear the views of big business first hand and outline his own views in return.

Although there are other subjects interesting Morgan at present in which the Government has a part, it was said today's talk was to be a personal one on business. The Interstate Commerce Commission's report on its investigation of financial affairs of the New Haven Railway is nearly ready for submission to the Senate, and the time is drawing near to July 15, the date which President Wilson and Attorney General McKennan have agreed on filing the anti-trust suit for dissolution of the New Haven merger, unless the Massachusetts Legislature takes certain action which is necessary to a dissolution and which has been recommended by the Attorney General and Chairman Elliott of the New Haven board. Whether these subjects were to enter into today's conference was not known.

TRAIN BANDIT KILLED IN DUEL

each armed with two revolvers, boarded the rear Pullman at Kamela. "They made me signal the engineer to stop the train," said the bandit, "and then they forced the Pullman conductor, all the porters, car sweepers and myself to walk to the express car, where they succeeded in getting the express messenger to open the door."

"They ransacked the express car and got all the money, but apparently were not satisfied, for the leader of the trio told the two others to go through the coaches and hold up the passengers."

Deputy Sheriff McDuffy, who was a passenger, pulled his revolver out when the robbers entered his car and the shooting began. McDuffy was shot through the left side, just above the heart, but not before he had shot and killed one of the robbers and wounded the other.

TAKE TO MOUNTAINS.
The wounded robber ran back to the express car, where he told his leader he had been wounded, and took to the mountains.

The robbers obtained money and valuables from about a third of the men passengers, but they did not rob any of the women.

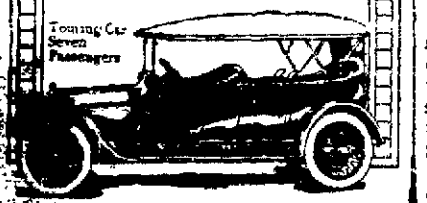

A gold watch found on the dead bandit was inscribed on the back, "Hugh Whitney, 5-10-11." Hugh Whitney is a noted desperado wanted for a long list of depredations in Montana, Idaho and Wyoming.

Most of the passengers managed to hide the greater part of their money. H. B. Royce of Walla Walla, Wash., the wealthiest passenger, as he was forced to give up a $700 diamond ring and some small change. George H. Ellis, of Baker, Ore., contributed only $1 from several hundred he had on his person. Frank and Sam Morgan of Salt Lake City, had about $100 between them, which they successfully hid.

WILL YOU VOTE FOR HON. JOS. R. KNOWLAND AT AUGUST PRIMARY?

You Must See That You Are Registered a Republican in Order to Cast Your Ballot for Him for U. S. Senator

EDITOR TRIBUNE: The thought has dawned upon me that those who are registered as Progressives will not be entitled to vote for Joseph R. Knowland for United States Senator at the primaries to be held August 25 of this year.

I claim to be a Progressive in the true sense of the word. In other words, I am strictly for an honest, open-minded, above-board Progressive Republican party and I trust that the lessons taught by the conditions existing today throughout this great land will result in the unification of an honest and upright Republican party.

I registered as a Progressive, but since then I am confronted with the fact that as a Progressive I will not be able to vote for Mr. Knowland as nominee for the United States Senate.

I am first and last for Hiram W. Johnson for Governor of California, but I am also first and last for Joseph R. Knowland for United States Senator. Now, who needs my vote most for the respective nominations?

Under existing conditions we find that Mr. Johnson has no opponent for the Progressive nomination for Governor of California. That fact is conclusive that he does not need my vote in the primary election.

TO CHANGE REGISTRATION.

In order to vote for one whom I honestly believe is the best man this great state can choose to represent in the United States Senate, the Hon. Joseph R. Knowland, I feel it my duty to change my registration from Progressive to Republican, as all state officers will appear on the ballot under the party names. In other words, when I appear at the primary election and ask for a ballot, the election clerk will hand me a Progressive ballot without the name of Joseph R. Knowland upon it and I will be forced to vote for Francis J. Heney or some other Progressive, when my aim is to vote for Mr. Knowland.

Mr. Knowland has been a valuable member of Congress for the bay counties and his executive national knowledge and experience peculiarly fit him for the high office of United States Senator. His congressional career has certainly been progressive and the things accomplished by him for his district and his state and his nation must not be overlooked by us, either as Republicans or Progressives.

Fellow citizens, let us be true to this man Knowland, and let us appreciate the fact that it may be your vote or my vote that will secure for him this nomination.

PARTY DESIGNATION IMPORTANT.

If we have registered so that we cannot vote for him in the primary let us see to it that we can vote for him and change our party designation. I feel that the large majority of our men and women want the best results politically. Let us now do the things that will attain those results. It may be the splendid majority that Alameda county will roll up for Mr. Knowland that will win this great and honorable prize.

It is a matter which all of us should consider personal. Then what should we do? We should feel it incumbent upon ourselves to change our registration from Progressive to Republican, so that we would materially assist in securing for Mr. Knowland this nomination.

Let us remember also that at the general election we can all vote for both Mr. Johnson and Mr. Knowland, should the latter get the nomination he is seeking.

Mr. Knowland's acts and accomplishments in our national legislature have certainly shown that he, above all others so far mentioned, is entitled to our unanimous support.

"MA'AM, BE CALM! WHY ALL THIS DIN?" "MY SON HAS EATEN A SAFETY PIN!"

One safety pin last night was the cause of a near panic at the Emergency hospital, and the only cool heads in the melee were Dr. E. E. Dowdell and the baby that was supposed to have swallowed the bit of metal. Whether Donald Nelson, aged one year and not at all alarmed—really swallowed that pin the doctor doesn't know, for searching investigation failed to find it. The baby's condition is diagnosed on the doctor's book as "scared."

It all happened at about 11 o'clock. All was at peace in the hospital, when suddenly Mrs. Nelson of 877 Twentieth street burst in, carrying the baby, followed by several friends.

"Mr. Dowdell! He's swallowed it, doctor!" cried the mother. "Baw!" wailed young Nelson.

"Smatter? Swallowed what?" demanded the doctor. Excited but fragmentary details followed. The baby had a safety pin in his mouth. It was gone. The baby was crying his eyes out.

The doctor reached for instruments. Electric lights and tongue depressors brought forth wails from the baby, but no pain. It didn't seem to be anywhere inside the youngster that Dowdell could observe. Young Nelson was sent home and his parents instructed to search his cradle and the floor for the missing pin.

ENGLISH TEACHERS IN OPEN REVOLT

Rebel Against Overwork and Criticism of Their Accomplishments.

versity, made exception to common criticism of English teachers.

"It is high time," he declared, "that the other teachers refrain from riding on our backs. We grow weary after a while of their criticism of our alleged shortcomings. The teacher of English might accomplish many things in class, but if the other teachers permit careless and ungrammatical language, much of his influence goes for naught. It is the duty of the other teachers to assist."

It was pointed out that English teachers in the schools of this state have the hardest work of all the faculty members. Their hours are longer, it was declared, because of the immense volume of examination and test papers they have to correct.

MIDNIGHT OIL DRAWBACK.
"I should like to have it explained to me," declared Professor Weiss, "now we may expect a teacher who has set up until midnight correcting examination papers, to appear on the scene in the morning aglow with the high Promethean fire of the imagination for the raising of enthusiasm among students. It is a physical impossibility."

A similar argument was advanced in the session of the section in manual arts, when Bruno Heymann, dean of the Lick school of San Francisco, declared:

"That our system of education is falling short of the ideals we have set for it, an admission which most of us are willing to make, is due to the fact that we have not yet understood the importance of co-ordination. We have tried too much to teach a trade. What we have to do on the other hand, is to teach a boy or a girl. We have got to make the student and not the subject the nucleus of our activity."

RELIEVED OF CONFUSION.
Dean Heymann illustrated his address with a number of charts such as are in use in the Lick school. These provide for a constant interchange of information between teachers in different departments.

He pointed out, for instance, that an English teacher, informed that the day before in the department of chisel, assigned that to them as an essay scheme. The system worked out, he said, in all departments in a similar manner. The work was made into a unified whole, robbing second-hand education of much of the confusion which now exists in it for the child mind.

In agricultural association session which opened this morning, Professor W. G. Hummel presided. The convention was held at the Mechanics' building and was attended by a large number of persons in addition to the delegates to the Teachers' convention. One of the interesting subjects of the morning was a paper on "Agriculture in the Public Schools," a practical subject, delivered by Dr. E. R. Snyder.

VALUE OF AGRICULTURE.
"Agriculture is a valuable study," he declared, "not only in the country school, but in the city school as well. In the former it is an absolute necessity, for we intend that the sons and daughters of farmers shall go ahead from where their parents left off. It is advisable also in the city if ever we expect the city child to find a real interest in agriculture."

The general session of the convention resumed its discussions this afternoon at the chemistry building when Dr. Snyder, who is state commissioner of vocational education, opened the consideration of that theme which had been assigned for the session. Dr. E. R. Snyder, of the Sacramento High School, spoke on "Vocational Guidance for Young People," and the subsequent discussion was led by James B. Addicott, principal of the Polytechnic High School of San Francisco.

TO ELECT OFFICERS.
At the general session tomorrow afternoon which will close the convention, reports will be submitted by the chairmen of the several sections and a new president and two directors will be

The music section of the association will meet in Hearst mining hall at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, instead of North hall, as announced in the printed program. This change has been made in order to accommodate the music students attending the session at the university. The program will be in the nature of general round table discussion on the subject of high school music.

DUNCAN IS SENT TO SAN QUENTIN

thought not and so told the probation officer.

"Oh! my God! I never said that!" screamed the man's grandmother, rising from her chair in the lobby, and then collapsing across the lap of her daughter.

"YOUR DUTY, JUDGE."
"Duncan," declared Judge William H. Donahue, "I have thought carefully of probation, and feel that I cannot consistently grant it. What have you to say?"

"I feel that you are doing your duty according to law," declared Duncan, "and I believe that I will come out of prison a better man."

"In that case I will show mercy," declared Donahue. "If I gave you the minimum of one year you could not get out any sooner than if I gave you two and you behaved yourself, thereby getting parole, which I feel may be granted you. A year of parole will do you good. I therefore sentence you to two years in San Quentin."

Duncan, as he was led back to the county jail by Deputy Sheriff Jack Koford, declared that he was going to his investigation, was true.

"I have gone into this case thoroughly," declared Koford, "and have tried hard to make up my mind for probation, but cannot."

QUITE SUBMISSIVE.
"I have no kick," declared Duncan, "and I am going to accept my fate. I have followed the occupations of rail-can, who, as Nellie Morley, was known as an Alaska actress, and a sister of the first wife of "Swiftwater Bill," the eccentric millionaire whose exploits recently figured in several states.

"They recommended against probation in Jim's case," she bitterly declares, "to get him into prison and away from me. I will stand by him, if he comes out of prison in the right frame of mind."

Duncan was arrested on the complaint of his wife, following his illegal marriage to Eva Azar, another vaudeville actress, about a year ago.

His wife, from whom he had been separated, was in Alaska when the second marriage took place. She was one of the famous "Morley sisters," one of whom married "Swiftwater Bill," figuring later in a sensational divorce suit. Duncan, when arrested, applied for probation, which the probation officer opposed.

BRIEF REPENTANCE.
Duncan, in court, impressed Judge Donahue as being deeply repentant, but when he arrived at the county jail, laughed and joked with the prisoners there.

"I was lucky," he remarked. "Only got a two-year."

"Yes, and you have your two relatives to thank!" retorted Mrs. Duncan.

The pair remained together some time, attending to business settlements. They had, together, owned a roadhouse in the southern part of the county. He was arrested for selling liquor in this place and his license was revoked.

In court today he declared this to be principally the fault of his wife, who had dominated him. Assistant District Attorney James Koford in-vestigating, was true.

road engineer, foreman, and actor. For a time he managed the roadhouse, which was the property of his wife when he married her. Later she went to Alaska, filling a theatrical engagement, when they had separated. He then married Eva Azar, a vaudeville actress, and his wife swore to the complaint.

Later, repenting, she attempted to secure his release, but was unable to do so following the probation officer report.

According to the probation officer Duncan's relatives declared that so long as he was free to drink, he could not be controlled.

"I shall return to my first wife when I get out of prison," declared Duncan. "I intend to apply for parole when I may, and propose to behave myself in prison."

"I cannot blame my wife for swearing to a complaint, and I freely admit that I was guilty of wrong. My relatives told the probation officer that if I returned to her I would murder her in four months. They had no business to say that, but it's over now and I consider myself fortunate to have gotten off so lightly. I shall make good to bear out the faith expressed in me when he extended clemency."

Big Joint Meeting Will Take Place July 8 in Oakland.

Every civic, commercial, social and women's organization in the east-bay cities, including Contra Costa county, is asked to send representatives to the meeting which will be held Wednesday evening, July 8, at the Chamber of Commerce to choose a permanent committee to arrange for the big Columbus Day celebration which will be given on the afternoon and evening of October 12th at Lakeside Park and on Lake Merritt. The meeting promises to be among the most enthusiastic ever held in the interests of this holiday and from all indications the celebration will be the most spectacular and elaborate ever held in Oakland.

The program, consisting of a pageant, depicting the principal events in the life of Christopher Columbus. This pageant will be in costume and a carnival expert will be employed to train the performers. The voyage and discovery of America by Columbus in the three caravels, the Santa Maria, the Nina and the Pinta, a splendid literary and musical program, athletic events and aquatic sports will be among the features. It is planned as a climax to the program to hold a banquet in the auditorium, if it is sufficiently completed.

The men and women who have always taken a leading part in arranging for the celebration are determined to make it known from one end of the country to the other. It has already been listed as the distinctive Oakland holiday by the California Celebrations Committee and will be boosted by this organization of which Joseph E. Caine, managing director of the Commercial Club, is district manager for Alameda and Contra Costa counties. A wide interest is being taken in the coming celebration and there will be many willing workers to make it a success.

NEWS FROM NATION'S CAPITAL

PLUCK NOT WISELY, TOO WELL: DANIELS

Secretary Declares Competent Men Have Been Retired by Board.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Naval officers were discussing with considerable interest Secretary Daniels' announced determination to urge Congress at its next session to repeal the law of 1899, known as the personnel act, under which the "plucking board" picked fifteen officers for compulsory retirement this year. Included in the list of those whose active careers were ended yesterday by the recommendation of the board were several captains.

While the health of some of the officers "plucked" had been regarded as somewhat unsatisfactory, their condition was not such as to warrant medical condemnation. The records of all of them disclosed, according to Secretary Daniels, that they were not unfitted for any naval service from the standpoint of habit, temperament and professional ability.

Secretary Daniels hopes to have Congress pass legislation to readjust the navy's personnel so as to eliminate certain features of the present law, which he considers objectionable. With all the "palpably disqualified" officers already eliminated, the secretary hopes to so arrange the personnel that it will not be necessary to retire any of the thoroughly competent officers now in the service.

The meetings of the plucking board, which are annual affairs, are looked forward to with considerable apprehension by naval officers.

The officers retired yesterday with their present stations and home addresses, follow:

Captain John H. Gibbons, commanding battleship Utah, Washington, D. C.
Captain Frank W. Kellogg, commanding battleship North Carolina, Waterbury, Conn.
Captain John C. Leonard, commanding battleship Virginia, Brooklyn, N. Y.
Captain Frank K. Hill, Army War College, Washington, Cincinnati, O.
Captain George R. Evans, commanding battleship Nebraska, Washington, D. C.
Commander George N. Hayward, collier Hannibal, Chicago.
Commander John B. Patton, commanding battleship Tennessee and receiving ship at New York, Columbia, S. C.
Commander Provost Erskin, en route to United States from Asiatic station, Brooklyn.
Commander William S. Whitted, inspector Cramp shipyard, Philadelphia, Reidsville, N. C.

DIVIDE AUTHORITY OVER STREAMS

War Department to Govern the Obstructions, Interior to Control Dams.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—What threatened to be serious differences between conservationists over the form of legislation now pending in Congress to regulate water power projects on navigable streams were practically straightened out last night at a White House conference. The Adamson and Ferris dam bills, which contained conflicting provisions, were thoroughly threshed over and made to conform to each other.

The administration leaders interested predicted that both bills would be passed quickly.

The conferences, which ended near midnight, was attended by President Wilson, Secretary of War Garrison, Secretary of the Interior Lane and representatives Adamson, Ferris, Lanroot and Stevens.

Under the agreement it is said the new legislation will permit the War Department to retain jurisdiction over all obstructions in navigable waters, and the Interior Department to be free to control the construction of dams.

A clause probably will be included in the Adamson bill to provide that nothing contained therein shall interfere with the jurisdiction of the Interior Department over the public lands and waters, while the Ferris bill will be amended to provide that the question of whether or not the construction of any of the artificial works and dams constitute an interference with the navigability of the streams shall be referred to the War Department for decision.

MANY NATIONAL BANK APPLICATIONS RECEIVED

WASHINGTON, July 2.—During June twenty applications were received by the Comptroller of the Currency for the conversion of state banks into national banks and twenty applications from persons not now connected with other banks who desire to organize national banks. Twenty-two of these applications were approved.

Twenty-one banks were authorized to begin business in June with a total capital of $2,200,000, sixteen of which had individual capital of less than fifty thousand dollars. On June 30 the total number of national banks was 7539, with an authorized capital of $1,704,239,175 and circulation outstanding secured by bonds of $135,525,969. The total amount of national bank circulation outstanding was $159,671,899, of which $15,142,939 was covered by lawful money of a like amount deposited with the treasurer of the United States on account of liquidating of insolvent banks.

UNCLE SAM FINDS HE HAS SURPLUS

First Year Under Wilson Administration Ends With Good Showing.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Treasury figures completed today showed that the federal government went through its first fiscal year under the Wilson administration with its income exceeding ordinary expenses by $33,784,452.07. Nearly thirty-three and a half million dollars, pouring into the treasury yesterday, the last day brought the total receipts for the year up to $733,343,700.20, a million and a half above Secretary McAdoo's original estimate, and turned into a surplus what had promised the day before to be a substantial deficit.

Corporations and income tax payments furnished the stream of gold at the finish. From this source came $26,161,822.62.

Secretary McAdoo and other administration officials are pointing proudly to the total surplus as proof of their management as to what would be accomplished under the new tariff.

The treasury surplus this year, at last will be wiped out by Panama Canal expenditures, which have been paid from the general fund. During the twelve months $34,826,841 has been spent on the canal, and when this has been charged off there will be a deficit for the year of $1,010,683.81 on the books. Last year the canal expenditure amounted to $41,741,525, and the final deficit was $400,733.

Last year's total receipts were only $691,149,067, but on the other hand the ordinary expenditures were only $650,500,000, or $45,744,248 below this year's total. Secretary McAdoo estimated that approximately $3,500,000 in scheduled income and corporation taxes, assessments not paid in June because partly due to a curfew against these assessments until July 10, would have been a clear surplus for the year of approximately $2,500,000.

SEND CONGRATULATIONS.

The secretary sent telegrams of congratulation to President Wilson, Representative Underwood, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, and to Senator Simmons, chairman of the Finance Committee of the Senate, upon the result under the new tariff law. Later he issued a statement saying:

"The department is exceedingly gratified with the results for the first fiscal year of the new tariff and income tax law. Unquestionably very much better results will be obtained during the present fiscal year."

The following figures were announced for the year, subject to revision upon analysis of complete returns:

LIVING WINGS ARE SWIFTER THAN AEROPLANE

CHICAGO, July 2.—Living winged birds are swifter than the aeroplane. A new record, slightly better than a minute, was announced here today by the Chicago Concours Association of Homing Pigeon Fanciers. The flight was between Chicago and Norfolk, Neb., where 682 pigeons were released Saturday. The winner reached the home coop in nine hours and twenty-three minutes, a rate of flight swifter than sixty miles an hour.

BUA TOOL OF 'BLACK-HAND' RING?

Disclosures That May Result in Wholesale Arrests Now Hinted At.

Disclosures that may result in an exposure of a "black hand" ring that will result in wholesale arrests and one of the sensations of the bay region are hinted in the defense of James Bua, now before the superior court on a charge of attempting, through letters, to intimidate and and James Arena, two Oakland liquor dealers. Attorney George Ingraham, who is defending the man, and who has been in consultation with the district attorney's office, declares that he is convinced that Bua was the tool of others, whom Bua fears to expose, and the police and district attorney's office are working on this angle of the case.

The man's attorney refused to tell me anything about this case, although I am the attorney," declares Ingraham. "I have known the defendant for years, and some of the things I have observed have clinched my belief that the police theory of "higher-ups" in the case is correct. The district attorney's office feels the same way about it.

"I do not say that I will be able to aid my client much by this exposure. If I am placed in a position to make it, but, if he suffers, others will suffer with him.

"The man turns a deaf ear to my questions, and will not even divulge the names of his friends, so reticent is he on the case. I have directly asked him if he was not trying to go to jail to shield someone, and so has the district attorney. He refuses to answer."

At the time of Bua's arrest, the detectives on the case declared that the affair might be a clue to a "black hand" ring. Investigations disclosed the fact that he had been in consultation with mysterious and unnamed parties, and all efforts to secure an explanation of this phase of the affair have been unavailing. The case is being prosecuted by A. A. Brown and others at the present time being made in the superior court of W. H. Donahue to have his bail reduced.

The case will be brought to trial shortly, and in the meantime, according to Ingraham and the police detectives, investigations are being made of the movements of the man and those whom the police allege

CITY PLANNING BOARD OUTLINED

Mayor Mott Introduces Ordinance Providing for Permanent Commission.

The creation of a city planning commission, to consist of five commissioners and the city attorney, city engineer and city architect, is forecasted in an ordinance introduced by Mayor Frank K. Mott today at the request of the city planning committee which arranged the recent exhibit in the city hall. The ordinance was given its first reading, but will probably be amended before it is passed to print.

The proposed city planning commission, if given the powers set forth in the draft of the ordinance, will pass upon the planning of public buildings, the opening of streets and the dedication of land for park and other matters affecting the appearance of the municipality.

It would be given power to employ engineers and architects, to lay out maps for the development of certain portions of the city, or general maps and plans outlining the desired method of developing the city as a whole. All ordinances for the ornamentation of public buildings, plazas or public places, for the widening or extension of streets and improvement would have to be referred to the commission.

TERMS OF APPOINTMENT.

The commission would have the power of appointing or refusing to accept dedications of public works, or dedications of plots and replots for residential districts, indicating streets and roads to be given the city for public use.

The proposed ordinance provides that the commission shall be given headquarters in the new city hall. The first five commissioners are to be appointed for one, two, three, four and five years respectively, the appointments to be made by the mayor; subsequent appointments being made at the expiration of these terms for five years. The city engineer, city attorney and city architect are made ex-officio members of the commission.

Mayor Mott also introduced by request an ordinance to make the old saying, "It is cheaper to move than to pay rent," inapplicable so far as Oakland is concerned. The ordinance would provide that all persons or firms operating moving vans, express wagons, furniture cars and transfer wagons shall file with the chief of police records of their operations giving the name of the person using them and the places from and to which furniture or other belongings are moved. This statement shall be kept at the city hall and shall be open to inspection by merchants whose credit patrons may have moved suddenly without leaving notice of their new addresses.

An ordinance for the licensing of itinerant vendors, the license to be fixed in the sum of $50 per day and to be issued day by day, was also introduced by Mayor Mott by request.

CHIEF PETERSEN BACK FROM EAST

Every Leader Is Against Sex
Drama, He Says of Conferees.

"You know how to do things up right," declared Chief of Police Walter J. Petersen as welcoming visitors who extended to him this morning on his return from the East. "Your hands feel good and your faces look good. I'm glad to be home."

In preparation for the return of the chief members of the department placed a huge bouquet of red roses with stems four and five feet in height, on his desk, with a broad ribbon carrying a message of welcome. Captain J. F. Lynch, who has been acting chief for the past month, was there with other officers to greet Petersen. The roses were presented by the captains and lieutenants.

Chief Petersen returned with a report as to the doing of the International Association of Chiefs of Police which convened this year at Grand Rapids, Mich. The chief also returned with a new pipe in the Oakland department.

"The East has nothing on us," declared Petersen in homespun style. "Our motor patrol system for the outlying district was a revelation to the Easterners. Our men make as good an appearance as the best, and our records can compare favorably with those of any department in the United States."

FOUR OF STUDY.
Following the convention at Grand Rapids Chief Petersen visited a number of large eastern cities, where he studied methods in vogue. In telling of the events of the convention, Petersen laid emphasis upon two consecutive pieces of work accomplished.

There were the stand taken by the police chiefs in favor of standardizing in all departments and cities the fingerprint and Bertillon identification cards and the circulars, and the stand taken against crime-depicting motion pictures and plays relying almost entirely upon the sex appeal for their popularity.

"The convention went on record as strongly opposed to the sex appeal play," said Petersen. "The dramatization of vice as a means of commercializing sex on the stage has produced a revulsion of feeling throughout the East, and the police chiefs went through to the end of every means possible to combat the evil. They were against the play which relies upon curiosity concerning sex and vice for its only appeal to the public."

"They also attacked the 'movie' which presents the details of crimes, as having an evil influence upon the young. The motion picture theaters are attended by children in their formative years and the depicting of crimes against society in these reels is an absolute evil."

ON SOCIAL EVIL.
The action of the convention on the matter of the red light abatement and the segregated district was based largely on the report presented last year ago by Chief Petersen to the convention of that date. Petersen did not take part in the debate this year, as he was apparently satisfied with the report of the committee.

"The best thought of the convention on this matter as expressed in the report of the committee and in resolutions adopted by the convention was that no hard and fast rule can be laid down suitable to all communities, but that where proper segregation is in effect it is best not to attempt to change, as the practice of suppression and rigid abatement has not proved the panacea it was expected to be. Segregation can be at best merely a palliative of the evil, but where proper segregation is in effect it is best not to attempt to change, as the practice of suppression and rigid abatement has not proved the panacea it was expected to be."

Chief Petersen delivered an address on the subject of homicide conditions in the United States and Europe, and methods of dealing with this class of crimes of violence. He gave statistics and quoted authorities. In the course of his address Chief Petersen pointed out that the fact that punishment is not meted out swiftly and surely in the United States is one cause of the increase of homicide in this country.

"Money, political favor and sex interfere with justice in the United States," declared Chief Petersen. "This is one of the causes why homicide increases unchecked. We rarely execute a rich man, or a man who has strong political influence, or a woman, in the United States. And there have been waves of sentimentality against capital punishment. The police officer looks at this subject without sentimentality. He sees the crime and the punishment and believes that the surest way to prevent a recurrence of a similar crime is to mete out swift and sure justice."

"I saw camps of prisoners miles from the penitentiary working on the roads," he said. "Their guards were unarmed. Over one camp the American flag was flying and with it a banner inscribed 'Colorado Honor Prisoners.' Those men could easily have escaped, but the warden told me the attempts to do so were few. In several instances where men attempted to escape, the prisoners themselves went out and shot them."

Chief Petersen explained that W. J. Burns, chief of the Burns Detective Agency, was dropped from the roll of honorary members by the credential committee because of his attempt to obtain a pardon for a man charged with the murder in that city, who, the Oakland chiefs believed, was guilty.

PIONEER OF OIL FIELDS IS DEAD

Three Years' Illness Terminates Fatally for C. F. Burks.

Charles F. Burks, 65 years old, a resident of this city for 25 years, and father of Secretary C. Fred Burks of the Oakland Real Estate Association, died at his home, #15 Thirty-seventh street, last evening, following an illness which had been almost continuous during three years.

Burks came to Oakland in 1889 and has been engaged in the oil business and real estate business during the greater part of his residence here. He was a native of Missouri, born in Boone county, on April 11, 1848.

He was married in 1872 to Emma O. Strine. Surviving him, besides his widow, are a sister, Mrs. C. W. De Burks of Fresno, and two sons, C. Fred Burks and Roy J. Burks, both of Oakland.

Burks came to California in 1874, locating in Ventura county. In 1880 he moved with his family to Fresno, Cal., and was a resident of that city until 1889, when he came to Oakland to live.

Burks was one of the original locators of the Midway Oil Fields, having organized the Bay City Oil Company and was president of that company until his death. It is believed that the pioneer well of that district was drilled. Later an unfortunate selection of territory for production purposes brought him financial reverses, and it is believed that disappointment in this venture was largely responsible for his illness of the past three years.

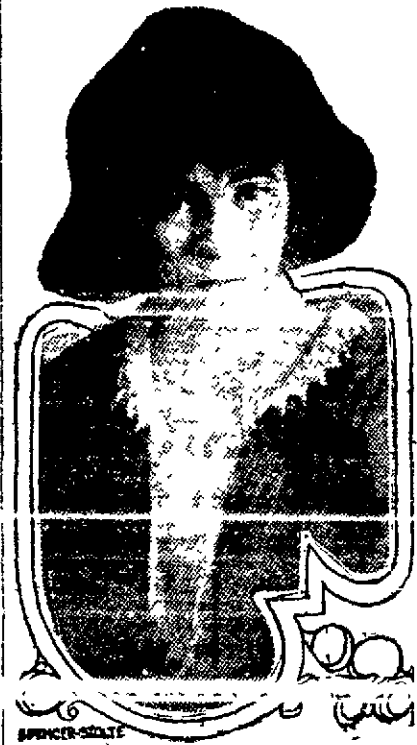

The burial services will be held at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon at the California Crematorium, at Forty-fifth street and Piedmont avenue; friends and acquaintances invited.

Police and Firemen Ask for Runabouts For Hurry-Up Calls

ALAMEDA, July 1.—That the police department should have a small runabout to handle hurry calls and get quick action in many cases where the big patrol wagon is cumbersome, is the opinion that is being expressed in this city. The police and fire commission has asked for a small machine in its budget estimate.

The patrol wagon and ambulance has been out of commission for the past three days and hurry calls have had to be handled by foot or by the cars. Pulpits Are Filled by Religious Leaders New to Church Goers.

During the next few weeks many pulpits of the city will seek an out of town rest from clerical labors while their pulpits are filled by religious leaders new to Oakland. Leaving the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church in charge of the Rev. Wallace of Tacoma, Rev. Frank Lincoln Goodspeed, accompanied by Mrs. Goodspeed, has started for Nevada to visit his son. ### STATE HOSPITALS SOUGHT BY S. P. T.

Petitions for Law to Construct Tuberculosis Asylums Now in Circulation.

Petitions, calling for an initiative law to construct tuberculosis hospitals in California under the direction of the State Board of Health, to be built and operated in the state, are on the streets in Oakland today. The petitions are being circulated by the Alameda County Society for the Prevention and Study of Tuberculosis, and are also being circulated in other cities of the state under the auspices of the state society and under the direction of interested physicians and public welfare workers.

The plan for the move, which has become state wide and which is backed by a number of prominent citizens of the state, started with a bill drawn by Dr. Robert A. Peers of Colfax, and provides for an issue of $1,000,000 in state bonds at 5 per cent interest to carry for the work. The money, according to the plan, is to be handled by the state tuberculosis fund, which will be managed by the State Board of Health.

Where such hospitals, or perhaps where two different hospitals are to be built, has not been decided, but a suggestion is made that one be constructed south of the Tehachas, and one in the section north of the pass. The board, in the bill, is instructed that it may either buy new sites or purchase existing sanitariums, as deemed advisable.

To prevent a general fragmentation of tuberculosis patients the bill prescribes a year's residence in the state as a condition for admission. The San Francisco and Oakland associations will, it is expected, be specially prominent in the work of circulating the petition and campaigning for the plan. Among the prominent workers in both associations are Dr. Edward Von Adelung, Dr. Milner Kibbe, Miss Bessie Wood, Kenneth A. Millican, Dr. A. S. Kelly, Dr. O. D. Hamlin, Dr. A. F. Gilman, J. W. Lillenthal, William H. Crocker (vice-president), Dr. W. C. Voorsanger, (secretary), Dr. A. H. Giannini (executive secretary). Executive council, Mrs. William H. Crocker, Dr. George H. Evans, R. G. Broderick, Mrs. F. Merrill, Walter Voorsanger, Mrs. Henry Payot, Dr. W. C.

Voorsanger. The petitioners are Dr. Anna Hertola, Dr. W. B. Coffey, Mrs. William H. Coffey, Mrs. George E. Crothers, James J. Fagan, Dr. A. J. Hamlin, J. Charles Green, J. B. Grimwood, Mrs. William Haas, Thomas E. Haydon, C. A. Hooper, A. C. Kains, Dr. Charles E. Leason, Jesse W. Litchfield, C. C. Mason, Dr. J. P. F. J. Hanna, Osmond Putnam, Dr. Harry M. Snelman, Raphael Weil.

PETTICOAT GONE, GREENBACKS, TOO

Daughter Sews $250 in Garment, Which Disappears on Mother's Death.

The mysterious disappearance of a petticoat into the folds and ruffles of which greenbacks amounting to $250 were sewed by Miss Alice E. Taylor, a school teacher of Trinity county, is puzzling the Oakland Police Department. The money was the property of Mrs. Martha L. Taylor, who died December 1 at the Providence Hospital, and her daughter, Alice W. Taylor, has been looking for the petticoat ever since. It has been asked by the police to the present time no clue as to the whereabouts of the garment has been ascertained. Mrs. Taylor became ill last fall. While using the home of her mother, 721

East Tenth street, Miss Taylor sewed the currency into her mother's petticoat and gave it to her. She was a guest of the Providence Hospital November 15, and died there on December 1. According to attendants at the hospital, the petticoat did not accompany her to the hospital. The police believe it may have been inadvertently sent to the laundry, where the money was washed away. Taylor is of the opinion that some visitor to her mother's home made away with the garment.

AUTO DEALERS GUESTS OF GOODYEAR COMPANY

Thirty-five of the leading automobile dealers of Oakland were guests of the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company at a luncheon in the Hotel Oakland this afternoon. R. L. Daniels, factory representative from Akron, Ohio, was the principal speaker, dwelling on the magnitude which the tire manufacturing industry had assumed in the United States and especially in California. Among the other speakers were M. E. Morris, manager of the Pacific Coast branches of the Goodyear Company; F. E. Carroll, San Francisco manager, and E. C. Newbauer, manager in Oakland. The growth of the automobile industry on the Pacific coast was touched upon by a number of the guests.

PLAN PLAYGROUNDS FOR ALL SCHOOLS

Board of Education and Recreation Board Urge Project on Council.

Estimates being prepared by the Board of Education and the playground department of the city for expenditures during the coming fiscal year contemplate an appropriation of $70,000 to open and maintain new playgrounds. A plan has been agreed upon between the two departments, the members of which will cooperate in making out the budget for the fiscal year, they may wish to use the money for the department's needs. It will be used in reply that the plan is backed by popular favor. The plan, if carried out, will give every school in the city its own playground, equipped with swings, ball diamonds, ground, running track and in some instances with tennis and volleyball courts.

HIT WITH CARDS, IS WIFE'S PLAINT

Mildred I. Henrahan Declares Husband Hurled "Hand" at Her.

When Mildred I. Henrahan told Claude M. Henrahan that she was going to telephone to her aunt in Ileton, he did not believe her statement and created a dramatic scene in a San Francisco department store, according to the divorce complaint of the wife filed yesterday afternoon. She declares that he followed her, suddenly came up behind her and grabbed a telegram blank upon which she was writing her message, saying: "I am sorry I came back to find you doing underhand work. All I want to know is, who he is. I am through with you." The plaintiff declares that her husband has a sullen and morose disposition and that he has been subjected to physical violence.

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, NOT MARRIED MEN?

Governor, Mayor, and Exposition Chief All Ask With Worried Looks.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Mr. San Francisco is out on the street today dodging the smiles of any one looking like a spinster, and Mrs. San Francisco is glaring at every attractive face that smiles at that divorced-by-directory husband of hers. San Francisco's married men—especially the famous ones—have been relegated to bachelorhood by a hard-hearted city directory that promised them wives (in parentheses) at that. Still, when Governor Johnson, Mayor Rolph, Hiram Johnson Jr.—for the governor was given his son—and a few others appeared in the directory without their wives a wall arose. It all happened when the new directory was published.

8500 IN COUNTY HAVE ASKED FOR FISHING PERMITS

Whether or not Isaac Walton would have been so devout an angler if he had had to pay a fishing license is matter for speculation, but his disciples to the number of 8,500 in Alameda county alone have applied for permits thus far this year. So continuous has been the demand that the supply in the county clerk's office ran out yesterday afternoon, and it became necessary for the deputies to turn away applicants empty-handed. A telephone message was sent for a fresh consignment of blanks, and today there will be plenty on hand for those who desire to start on their vacations prepared to whip the streams.

Spies Shadow Women Shoppers, Is Charge

PARIS, July 2.—That American women who come to Paris to purchase gowns are shadowed by spies employed by United States custom officials, was charged by Henry Murray, a banker in court here yesterday.

Murray is appealing for an order to set aside a sentence of ten days in jail and the payment of a fine of $250 for declining to disclose the amounts paid by Miss Dolan, an American dressmaker, to dress a princess in France, which were asked on their arrival in Boston on the ground that they had been undervalued.

GREAT MONTANARA FETE OPENS UP IN TACOMA

TACOMA, Wash., July 2.—Tacoma plunged into three days of celebration today with the opening of the Montanara Fete, during which there will be a carnival riot of street shows, day and night fireworks and automobile races. The big street show, which will be a daily feature, was thrown open to the public this afternoon with elaborate ceremonies. This was followed by the firing of daylight bombs containing flags of various nationalities to each of which was attached a certificate worth $5 to the finder. Tonight the "Stromboli" will be presented at the great concrete high school stadium which seats nearly 40,000 persons. This spectacle represents the ancient city of Palermo, with its quaint medley of buildings, consisting of Greek, Oriental and Medieval architecture and concludes with the bursting into activity of the volcano and the destruction of the city.

NEW GRADES FOR CORN EFFECTIVE

WASHINGTON, July 2.—New grades for commercial corn, established by the department of agriculture, went into effect today. The corn grades, as promulgated, are practically the same as the tentative grades formulated August 22, 1913.

MOTHER OF SCHOOL GIRL

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Daughter's Health.

Plover, Iowa.—"From a small child my 13 year old daughter had female weakness. I spoke to three doctors about it and they did not help her any. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had been of great benefit to me, so I decided to have her give it a trial. She has taken five bottles of the Vegetable Compound according to directions on the bottle and she is cured of this trouble. She was all run down when she started taking the Compound and her periods did not come right. She was an overly and weak that I often had to help her dress herself, but now she is regular and is growing strong and healthy."—Mrs. MARTIN HELVIG, Plover, Iowa.

Hundreds of such letters expressing gratitude for the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has accomplished are constantly being received, proving the reliability of this grand old remedy.

FORT COLLINS IN NATAL FESTIVITY

Indians and Whites Begin Big Three-Day Celebration of 50th Anniversary.

FORT COLLINS, Wyo., July 2.—Fort Collins is celebrating her 50th birthday today. It isn't the exact anniversary, for the town was founded in May of 1864. But at that time of the year the dry farmers and lamb feeders are too busy to take the necessary layoff for a celebration. So it was decided to set the date for July 2. Today, tomorrow and Saturday Fort Collins will be thronged with thousands of visitors from all over the Rocky Mountain territory.

Today when the main events of the celebration take place, there will be a big parade of pioneers. A few of the founders of the town still survive, and they will ride in the parade, dressed in garments like those they wore when they first set up their sod shanties and started to break the prairie sod. Ox teams, drawing canvas-roofed prairie schooners, will be the conveyances for the pioneers and their families. Indians will take part in the parade. Every day of the three there will be wild west sports. Performances by a wild west show will be part of the program, and there will be contests, open to all comers, in riding bucking, horses, roping steers and other feats of the range. Cow pony races, with men and women jockeys, will be held every day.

DENTIST FINDS GERM AND CURE FOR PYHORREA

PHILADELPHIA, July 2.—The germ which causes pyhorrea and a cure for the disease have been discovered by Dr. Michael F. Barrett of this city, according to an announcement made here yesterday at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Dental Society.

Dr. Barrett, who described his discovery in a paper read before the association, said the germ is an animal organism similar to that which causes dysentery. Emetine, a compound part of ipecac, which Dr. Edward Vedders by experiments in the Passig River laboratory in the Philippine Islands, discovered to be a cure for the latter disease, was used successfully by Dr. Barrett in the treatment of forty-six cases of pyhorrea in the Philadelphia hospital.

In his experiments leading to the discovery of the germ Dr. Barrett was assisted by Dr. Allen J. Smith, discoverer of the hook worm, who is now professor of tropical diseases at the University of Pennsylvania.

MISSOURIANS TO FORM ANTI-SUFFRAGE LEAGUE

ST. LOUIS, July 2.—A conference between local suffragist leaders and anti-suffrage leaders terminated here last night in the exchange of polite but plain spoken denunciations. The meeting of Miss Minnie Bronson of New York, general secretary of the national association opposed to woman suffrage.

"I hope to organize here," said Miss Bronson. "I have been extremely successful in Montana, North Dakota, Nevada and Nebraska. I shall return to the East within a few days and steps will be taken immediately toward the organization of a Missouri anti-suffrage league."

WASHINGTON MILITIA JOIN ARMY MANEUVERS

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., July 2.—Having followed the route taken by George Washington on his historic ride from Philadelphia 139 years ago to take charge of the Continental army here, three members of the Sons of the American Revolution arrived here today to lead in unveiling a memorial tablet. The men who have followed Washington's route, and unveiled tablets at each point where Washington stopped, are Brigadier General Philip Reader, U. S. A., retired; Edwin S. Cranston of Boston, and Henry F. Ponderson of Springfield, Mass. Today's celebration, held under the famous "Old Elm Tree," was attended by Cambridge and Boston city officials and by representatives of Massachusetts.

OMAR'S CASTS SPELL

Tully Play at Macdonough Theater Charms

MACDONOUGH ORPHEUM

"Omar, the Tent Maker" a name to conjure with! Richard Walton Tully's latest production, rich in Oriental imagery and whose source is Omar Khayyam, the Persian, is casting its spell at the Macdonough Theater this week. Crowded houses, with enthusiastic admiration, valued in frequent bursts of applause, greet scene after scene of Oriental splendor. Philosophy—Omar's philosophy, permeates the play, and carries the spell-bound audience into that atmosphere of subtle thought and dealings so common to the Far East—so utterly foreign to the Western Hemisphere.

Picture after picture is presented, with fidelity to detail, and wondrous effectiveness. Colorful, rich in symbolism, "Omar, the Tent Maker" is replete in everything tending toward the making of a great drama.

GARDEN SCENE ENCHANTING.

The scene in the Persian garden is a dream of delight, and Tully is fortunate in having so talented an actor as Guy Bates Post to impersonate "Omar" whose coming here to be part and parcel of many a man's soul. Jane Salisbury, the maiden is also a satisfactory choice—so much so that the real Omar's sigh for solitude with her's the only other human presence is not to be wondered at, were Jane Salisbury to have been the "Thou" of the Persian's fancy. Tully's imagination is noticeably rich, if such a term is permissible. He catches us at once, the spirit of the times he portrays.

"The Rose of the Rancho" with its delightfully charming, coquettish Spanish maidens, its padre of the Mission days, and above all, its distinctly Californian atmosphere, was the first proof of Tully's talent. "The Bird of Paradise" was second testimony to his playwright's ability, the crown of which has been shown in "Omar, the Tent Maker," which is to close its engagement at the Macdonough Sunday night. Another matinee will be given Saturday, thus offering every day a chance to see this enchanting Persian drama.

George Spaulding and Vilma Steh also have important roles.

The musical selections this week are unusually pleasing. "The Trinidad," a novel dancing selection is cleverly presented. Other successful numbers are "The-Go-Bye," "In Nodland," and "I Love to Quarrel With You."

OAKLAND PHOTO

A dramatization of "The Kangaroo" (published serially in Munsey's Magazine), from the pen of Julius Gustafson, author of the "Virgil Custard Stories" and "The Reliance" is the feature at the Oakland Theater beginning today and running until Saturday night. It is a tale of old New Orleans, based on an episode in the history of the slaveholding States about 1840-1845. The story deals with the same known as the "Speculators" who were recruited from all over the Southern States, including representatives from the lowest stratum of whites up to sheriffs, judges and ministers of the gospel. No robbery, large or small, was unattempted. Slave raiding also proved very lucrative. Slaves were lured to run away from their masters with the promise of aid; when the slaves were once in their power the "Speculators" sold them to worse masters. "Down the river" all this was continued, until the "Speculators" were organized for an even more terrible purpose. They planned an uprising of the slaves throughout the entire South, with the aim of taking advantage of the resulting turmoil to loot all plantations, stores and banks; then they were to escape with their booty to Mexico.

BERKELEY COUPLE WILL JOIN PERU EXPOSITION

Mr. and Mrs. George Clark Gester of Berkeley left yesterday for New York, where they will join a party of geologists and engineers on a trip of exploration into Peru. The expedition is made in the interests of the Standard Oil Company for which Gester has been geologist in the California fields.

The party, which will include a number of Northern Peru, where few foreigners have traveled and where Mrs. Gester is the only woman of the company, will be the first white woman to venture into the wild country. The party will travel on muleback over mountain ranges and through dense forests many miles from civilization, and will carry camping equipment for several months.

Mrs. Gester, who was a bride last year, is keenly enthusiastic over the adventure. "I am not in the least nervous about going," she said. "It will be just a rather exciting trip."

Five the grown up Snookums and Gladys the artist's model are announced. Gladys is a graduate of the University of California. Her husband is a graduate of the University of California. He occupied the chair of geology at the university several years ago, but later joined the Standard Oil Company, where he is now in the oil fields of the company in this state.

DUBOIS TURNS AGAINST T. R.

Former Minister Gives Reasons for Supporting Treaty; Expresses Regret.

HALLSTAD, Pa., July 2.—In a statement issued here, dealing with the proposed Columbian treaty, James T. Dubois, who was United States minister to Colombia under the Taft administration, today turns with the words recently expressed by Colonel Roosevelt and explains his own reasons for supporting the treaty.

Regarding his difference with Colonel Roosevelt on this subject, Dubois expresses regret at opposing a great leader whose fortunes he recently followed for ten years, and states that "no man will tolerate the thought that any of Colonel Roosevelt's acts were inspired by tainted motives, but no man is infallible."

Negotiations for a treaty during the Taft administration failed, he says. Dubois said he gave Colombia sufficient notice of the treaty and that he never would have broken it. In purely informal conversations and in my most confidential memorandum, I suggested that our friendship expression of regard that our friendship had in any way been warped, such as any real gentlemen would freely grant to another, might have been embodied in the treaty, as a friendly reminder.

While negotiating for a treaty I made the Colombian authorities understand that such no circumstances would the United States adhere to any man for a political act. But was our conviction that the treaty had been so broken. In purely informal conversations and in my most confidential memorandum, I suggested that our friendship expression of regard that our friendship had in any way been warped, such as any real gentlemen would freely grant to another, might have been embodied in the treaty, as a friendly reminder.

EVANS EXPLAINS SPEECH REMARKS

Declares Utterances Were Misquoted in Reports to Secretary Garrison.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Brigadier General Robert K. Evans, temporarily commanding the eastern department of the army, in a report to Secretary Garrison, denied today he criticized the administration in a speech delivered in New York last week. General Evans declared his remarks were misquoted in reports which represented him as having said:

"We need a large army because, with our great variety of interests, we are naturally the most meddlesome nation in the world."

Victory of the speech was held before President Wilson he immediately called upon Secretary Garrison to demand an explanation from General Evans. In his letter today to Mr. Garrison, General Evans said he was speaking extemporaneously and forwarded as nearly as he could remember the remarks which he said he actually made and explained the meaning he intended to convey.

Secretary Garrison declined to make public General Evans' letter. He will forward it to the President, upon whom further action depends.

'MERGED FOLKS' TO HOLD REUNION

Judges and Banker Will Speak at Second Annual Outing.

The second annual reunion of "Merged Folks" is to be held at Piedmont Park on the Fourth of July. The "Pinn Grove" has been selected as the exact spot at which to congregate, and everybody from Merged county is invited. No cards have been sent out, owing to the youth of the organization and the consequent lack of addresses.

Among the speakers who have been invited to address the "Merged Folks" are Attorney J. P. Peck of Oakland; John F. Carlson, president of the Central National Bank; Judge William Conley, candidate for nomination to Supreme Justice; Judge Kirby Mahon of Tulsa and Judge J. W. Mahon of Berkeley.

The picnic is to be a "basket" luncheon affair.

Officers of the organization are: Mrs. Mary Turner Wassman, president; Mrs. Mary Deany King, secretary and Lydia Peck Bunker treasurer.

AVOID PAIN

and the best way to avoid it is to be a one act play entitled "Baffled." Of the many tabloids presented at this theater the past season none have interested more than this story of two society crooks. It is decidedly refreshing to witness a playlet on new lines. "Baffled" will always succeed in holding the attention. For it contains all the elements of the successful tabloid drama. It has a succession

"Dave Day" Lays Down His Pen.

Of course he did not amount to much in these latter days, and his fame did not extend up and down the Pacific Coast, but in the great inter-mountain region for the last two or three decades Dave Day, sometime editor of the "Solid Muldoon" of Durango, Colorado, cut a whole lot of journalistic ice. Dave has laid down his pen forever and has passed out into the everlasting sunshine, where the glory of the rays of the morning are perpetual and the peaks of alabaster constituting the Delectable Mountain range are always illuminated.

He was a great old writer was Dave. He had a pen as versatile as any man who has ever written. He could dip it in vitriol and sear an opponent until he was crisp. He was inimitable, acerbic, even savage, when he criticized. He vivisectioned those whom he believed guilty of intentional wrong and with a scalpel as keen as Saladin's sword he laid bare their hearts as one cooking to expose vital disease. But for the erring one who had blindly stepped aside from the path of rectitude it was as gentle as the shepherd who nurses the tender lamb that has wandered away and nearly perished in the storm.

He lived for the purpose of driving the nails of truth wherever needed. And as he once remarked: "The way to drive a nail is to use a hammer!" He exposed hypocrisy and lauded fact and whenever he wrote his clientage sat up and took notice. But he was no iconoclast, for he destroyed no idols, but urged that the good illusions be perpetuated, because he held ever to the belief that the dreamer has an eternity of usefulness, while the plodder sinks to a dreamless sleep.

He was one of the greatest newspaper writers of this age, although perchance few will read his work, for, instead of electing to publish his best ideas in the busy marts, where thoughts are at a premium, he chose the high hills with their pure air and their freedom; picked for his audiences the men who attired themselves in red flannel instead of fried shirts, and in lieu of the décolleté costumed women of society, made his appeals to the housewives of the higher altitudes who were content to cook the corned beef and cabbage for the men who were boring holes in the everlasting mountains that a stream of silver and gold might be poured into the currency arteries of the nation, serene in the belief that some time they would "strike it" and with the money acquired enjoy a life of ease in more favored localities.

There he toiled and toiled, ever scorning the wrong and welcoming the right, year after year, until finally Death ran his icy fingers over the silvered hair and the old man entered the dreamless sleep.

With his passing there are few of the old mining region writers left, one being Judge Charles C. Goodwin of Salt Lake. Dan De Quille (William Wright) has slept for years, Arkins of the Denver News rests under the turf, Rothaker died long ago with a smile on his lips; Gene Field has been numbered with the countless of God's Acre since the early nineties, Joe Jenkins of Leadville fame reposes with his hands across his bosom in far off Greenwood, harsh old Stapleton and gentle Meredith are with the innumerable throng. Fred J. V. Skiff, director of the Panama-Pacific and Hulaniski of the Richmond Record Herald are about the only ones remaining.

California's Magnificent Crops.

In its report for the month of June, the Southern Pacific, which has facilities for obtaining information second to no other agency, says of conditions in this state:

Crop reports are excellent, and it is confidently expected that with the returns improvement in business will improve by fall.

Then follows the details. It appears from the figures that the deciduous fruit output, not mentioning apples, which come in later, show a total of 300 cars of apricots, 200 cars of cherries, 2500 cars of peaches, 1800 cars of plums, 2500 cars of pears and 8000 cars of grapes. Grapes are reported in fine condition in all districts.

Citrus fruits are showing well. North of Tehachapi 5373 cars have been shipped as against 2366 for last year, while south of the range the exports eastward have been 24,151 as against 10,656, or a total of 29,524 as compared with 13,022 in 1913.

Then there are prunes. Prunes will be a better crop than at first indicated. Estimates run as high as 135,000,000 pounds, whereas the first prediction was 35,000,000 pounds shorter.

Melons! Lawsee! as the Georgia "coon" would say. There will be nearly 2000 cars from Imperial Valley, while the Casaba, a new variety, comparatively speaking, will be fifty cars.

Almonds promise the state 2000 tons compared with 1100 tons last year. Walnuts will be between 12,000 and 13,000 tons. Last year the yield was 11,750 tons.

There is an astonishing yield of barley. This year's crop will total 1,250,000 tons, 819,000 of which are from the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. Wheat, 250,000 tons; corn, 100,000 tons; oats, 115,000 tons; rice, 27,500.

Hay, potatoes, beans and cotton all show increases. The potato crop will be 275,000 tons, compared with 245,000 tons last year; the hay crop exceeds 1913 by 3,900,000 tons, cotton is 59,000 bales more and livestock will show an increase.

Lumber is picking up, oil is showing a great development, and with all these products selling at good prices California is entitled to derive a large revenue.

Now if the wheels of industry are set turning, the hands employed and the selling process rejuvenated, the Golden State will come into its own again and the misfortunes of the past will be forgotten while the farmers, the miners and the merchants divide the cornucopia of results among themselves in just proportion.

One of the daughters of President Wilson is quoted as having said: "If you wear a smile, hot weather doesn't bother you." True, perhaps, still a person should wear something besides a smile.

The Redding Searchlight learnedly discourses on the task of editing a newspaper, but inferring from past experiences the task is not so difficult in Redding, about the only accessories demanded being a paste pot and a pair of scissors.

The Fresno Herald, under the new management will be an independent Republican newspaper. This leaves Colonel Jeems Barry of the San Francisco Star in sole possession of the field.

Of course we all like to see California in the lead, but it is nothing but truth to say Mt. Lassen has nothing on the Colonel.

SHE HAS EVERYTHING ELSE

OAKLAND TRIBUNE CAPTIONIST.

Effect of Inter-Mountain Decision.

L. J. Spence, traffic editor of the Southern Pacific Company, in a statement made a few days ago calling attention to the decision of the Federal Supreme Court in the so-called "inter-mountain rate case," indicates some of the larger and ultimate results which have doubtless thus far escaped consideration save at the hands of a few. By the decision sustaining the validity of the long and short haul clause of the interstate commerce act, the railroads are required to abandon the practice of charging less for the long haul than for the short, or what is the same thing, charging more for the short than for the long haul.

This practice has been indulged in in the past as a means of meeting water competition and has been particularly pronounced with respect to rates to the Pacific Coast. To compete with water line transportation the railroads have been compelled to put in very low rates to Oakland, San Francisco and other Pacific Coast terminals, and in order to balance the accounts; in order to recoup themselves for whatever sacrifices that have been made in competing with steamship lines, have been charging rates to intermediate points, such as Denver, Salt Lake and Spokane, that abstractly considered are higher than can be justified. As a result of the decision of the court this practice must be abandoned.

The interesting point of the situation, according to Mr. Spence, lies in the choice of methods. The railroad corporations affected can equalize conditions between coast and inter-mountain points by reducing rates to inter-mountain points, or they can accomplish the same thing by increasing rates to coast points. But if they elect to get out of this dilemma by increasing rates to coast points, they further disable themselves to compete with water carriers, and that a time when that competition promises to become more strenuous by reason of the opening of the Panama canal. On the other hand, if they reduce rates to coast points, or even maintain existing rates as a means of meeting water competition, they will be under the necessity of making a correspondingly greater reduction in rates to inter-mountain points to avoid the discrimination that is forbidden by the long and short haul clause.

Just how the railroads will solve this problem that has been thrust on them probably they themselves do not know. The elements that must be considered are numerous and perplexing. But it seems certain that they must forego much traffic that otherwise they might have expected to get and give the steamships a monopoly in the transportation of certain classes of freights.

In some quarters it is believed this decision is a sort of offset to the losses which will be sustained by coastwise ships as a result of the repeal of the no-tolls clause in the Panama canal. This view is doubtless correct. But the future action of the roads, coupled with the fact that they must remit approximately $12,000,000 to shippers is something worth watching, especially in the light of the oft-repeated statements that unless rates are raised the principal lines will suffer irreparable loss.

Republicans Organize for Victory.

The Republicans of Alameda county have organized a strong central committee and are now in a position to some good work for the party in both the primary and general election campaigns. Every man on the committee charged with a specific duty is especially well qualified to perform it, and as a result of this condition every task will be performed with care and ability.

There is much to do by this body of men and the auxiliaries they will no doubt call to service. Chief among these duties is the matter of registration. There are hundreds of citizens in this county who are not registered, and there are hundreds registered who desire to vote the Republican ticket at the primary, and it is the duty of the committee to see that they are registered.

It is understood this is one of the first matters to which the committee will give its attention and surely there could be no more important one. THE TRIBUNE has already given this matter a great deal of publicity and will continue to do so, and, aided by the intelligent efforts of the new central committee a great good can be accomplished.

Twenty Years Ago Today

P. J. Keller, who is popularly known as "the Mayor of Piedmont," has sent in the following communication: "No, I do not directly or indirectly employ any deputy sheriffs for the Southern Pacific or anybody else. It is a well-known fact that I am not at present a deputy sheriff. I am a deputy constable. I have taken the appointment at the earnest request of my neighbors. I do believe that working men should have whatever rights belong to them. I am in sympathy with the sons of toil, because I work myself."

Chester Doyle, the well-known young railroad man, has returned, after a two years' trip to the Hawaiian Islands. Mr. Doyle made a splendid record in Honolulu, where he was engaged as official Japanese interpreter for the courts. Last week Miss Della McLane was united in marriage with Harry C. Pfeiffer, at her residence, 955 Castro street. The happy couple departed immediately after the ceremony on a wedding tour to the south.

J. Hirschberg, Mrs. R. Hirschberg, Miss E. B. Browne and H. E. Miller, all of Oakland, are stopping at the Del Monte. Mrs. M. G. Mast, Mrs. J. A. Bliss and Mrs. E. M. Leach of Oakland are sojourning near Glenwood. A huge bulk of delapidated mail, amounting to about twenty tons, is piled up at the mole, and the postoffice authorities look for no improvement of service within the next few days.

Today proved the most exciting since the great strike went into effect. The morning brought forth the first open conflict in this city between the union men and the railroad, for at Sixteenth street the strikers seized an incoming train and, after cutting the air-brakes, refused to allow anything but a fruit car and the mail to proceed to the pier. Police and deputy sheriffs were at once telephoned for, and this afternoon Sixteenth street is the scene of great excitement. The strikers have taken possession of the tracks and the railroad cannot get any way trains out of town in that direction. The issue is now squarely met and it looks like a fight to a finish.

An orange was purchased for each of the women prisoners in the Tombs last week by Miss F. Tennyson Josse, grandniece of Alfred Tennyson and author of "The Milky Way" and other books. She made a trip through the prison, accompanied by the Rev. Dr. Percy Sanderson, the Episcopal chaplain, and afterward made arrangements for the delivery of the fruit.

"Through the activity of the suffragettes the English prisons are coming up to the standard set by the institutions of America," said Miss Josse, who is not a suffragette.

MOTHERS OF FAMOUS MEN

The old saying, "like mother, like son," is historically correct.

Henry IV. of Germany becomes a miserable Prince, but blest with a wise mother, Louis IX. of France grows up into a man of God.

A distinguished writer has called attention to the fact that of the 69 monarchs who have worn the French crown, only three have loved the people, and all these three were reared by their mothers. St. Louis was trained by Blanche; Louis XII. by Maria of Cleves and Henry IV. by Jeanne d'Albert, and these three were really the fathers of their people.

Sir Walter Scott's mother was a superior woman, a lover of poetry and painting. Byron's worst enemy was his mother—she was proud and ill tempered. The mother of Napoleon was of superior mind and deep piety.

The mother of Nero was a murderess. The mother of Patrick Henry was a Quaker.

The mother of the Westons was distinguished for her intellectual powers and executive ability, so that she has been called the Mother of Methodism.

Mothers have trained our Presidents and statesmen. Washington's father died when George was only 12 years old.

Jefferson, Madison, Jackson and Harrison—the chief men of the nation—were all left fatherless when only small boys.

Tyler, Hayes and Cleveland depended upon their widowed mothers for their training.

Abraham Lincoln confessed that among the most pleasant reminiscences were those of his excellent mother, to whom he imputed the best and brightest qualities he had inherited. Lincoln also owned that it was his stepmother, more than any other person, that made him the man he was.

General Grant's mother went into a room at a certain hour each day during the war to pray for her Ulysses.

President McKinley left the capitol and the affairs of state to watch at the side of his dying mother, to receive her last blessing and to give her his last kiss.

Garfield's father died when the future president was a babe. On the day of his inauguration he turned away from all representatives of Kings and Queens, from all the great men and beautiful women who had gathered to do him honor, and the first thing he did after having taken the oath of office was to kiss the wrinkled face of his mother and weep.

John Quincy Adams, till the day of his death, said the little prayer his mother taught him, "Now I lay me down to sleep."

Daniel Webster's mother first fostered those abilities which ultimately made him so long distinguished.

If the world was lost through woman, she alone can save it. The future of society is in the hands of the mothers. The mother in her office holds the key of the soul, and she it is who stamps the grain of character.—Washington Post.

STORIES OF VILLA

Hitherto in Mexico, as in other countries, writes George Marvin in the World's Work, when a man has risen from obscurity through the troubled waters of revolution to the surface of public attention, he has generally changed his manners if not his morals. Other persons who have won seats of authority sit down in them and have their boots blackened and their leggings laced by poens who are still common or garden.

"Pancho" Villa takes his boots and leggins out into the street in front of his quarters, sits down on a curbstone and puts them on himself. The authority he exercises is not artificial, a thing of titles and shoulder straps, or anything else that can be rubbed off at close quarters. It is the result of several ingredients, one of the strongest of which is the ability and the shrewdness of this bandit in being to an army what he was to a range of other bandits—their chief, their leader, stronger than they but their friend, one of them, "Pancho" still.

Villa is not one of those electric personalities who radiate energy. But he gives the impression of possessing great personal strength. He has the physical build that so many men of action possess—he is of medium height, inclined to be thick-set, with a rather heavy sort of face. Incidentally, brown eyes, a mustache and an ugly mouth, with irregular teeth, complete the picture. His energy he exhibits on all occasions.

One day he found that some soldiers who were trying to set a horse into a stock car were not doing it to suit him. Grabbing the halter, he fairly kicked the horse into the car. He never hesitates to grab a sack or do any other physical labor, when the humor suits him, in order to set the example of hard work for his men.

In fact, a criticism frequently heard from his own friends is that he tries to do everything himself.

Colonel Rodolfo Fierro, in addition to being a sort of lord high executioner, was in charge of the rail transportation of Villa's army until Eusebio Calzadazo took his place at the end of March. One of his water and provision trains was 35 minutes later after a hard night's fighting at Torreón. Villa, sleepless, dusty and hot, sent for him and gave him what might correspond to a reprimand in our service. His screams of wild rage could be heard across the camp, terrifying, maniacal, as she shook both fists in his subordinate's face. Fierro, a leader by profession, walked away, green with passion, without lifting a hand against his chief, but half an hour later, when the subject was put forth in his hearing, cut short the conductor's explanation by shooting him dead.

Peculiar and Pertinent

Figures compiled by the department of labor at Washington show that wages in the lumber industry in the United States have increased 25 per cent in the last 25 years.

The average quantity of grapes used annually in Spain for products other than wine is estimated at 275,000 tons, of which about 77,000 tons are made into raisins. 23,000 tons of these being exported to foreign countries.

Three good laughs an hour and three square meals and three hours' work outdoors every day is the recipe given by Mrs. Thomas Bennett of Brooklyn, N. Y., for living as she has done to the age of 102 in the full enjoyment of her faculties.

The Store That Undersells   Hale's Oakland Store   Washington at Eleventh

NEW YORK, July 2.—Charles C. Adams, second vice-president of the Postal Telegraph Company, whose testimony yesterday before the Interstate Commerce Commission, tended to settle the complaints of Western grain dealers that the leased wire system has been abused, took the stand again today to conclude his testimony.

He said the final solution of the question lay with the users of the leased wires; that if they so desired they could put an end to any use of their wires by outsiders.

Having no money for another and without funds to build a better one, the men in the camp did a thing which secured the use of an old dance hall that was not in use on Sundays. Freedmen's meetings were held in a dilapidated side wing of the storehouse for old rags. As the Army grew it was forced into the streets, narrow alleys, abandoned houses or wherever the negroes became " Salvation Army " shacks.

ASK APPROVAL OF ILLEGAL BONDING

Napa City Water Company Files Application With the Railroad Commission.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The Napa City Water Company today filed an application with the Railroad Commission asking for an order approving the sale of $10,000 of treasury bonds illegally issued in 1912. The bonds were sold under a misapprehension that having been authorized prior to 1912 it would be unnecessary to obtain authority from the commission.

The application further asks for authority to sell $10,000 worth of treasury bonds to take up a note indebtedness of $10,000 and to meet a portion of a note account of $2,000 expended for meters. The water company supplies Napa city.

The commission has rendered a decision that the operative property of the Santa Maria Railway Company is valued at $216,693, contained in 18 miles of track. The road was built by the Palmer Annex Oil Company, a subsidiary company of the British syndicate. In 1911 the company entered into an agreement with the Southern Pacific Company which placed the control with the latter corporation, with an option to purchase at any time within five years. The railroad runs between Santa Maria and the oil fields northwest of that city. The value of the road is fixed as July 30, 1912.

STRAMMEL GIVES BONDS ON CHARGE OF BATTERY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Captain Harry Strammel of the Steamer Harvard, who was held to answer by the United States Commissioner on charges of battery preferred by passengers aboard the steamer on its run from Los Angeles two days ago, today gave bond and upon a showing made before Walter Hettmann, deputy U. Captain Strammel who is a member of the Olympic Club, is accused of beating Louis Lull in the pilot house of the steamer. He appeared before Commissioner Knell yesterday afternoon and today gave bond for $500. He left on his steamer for Los Angeles today.

HUERTISTAS SEEK PEACE

Delegation Expresses Willingness to Negotiate

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., July 2.—Communication between the two warring factions in Mexico, which it is hoped eventually will lead to conferences for the establishment of peace, was begun today when the delegation representing General Huerta formally entered the three south American mediators a note to be transmitted to the Constitutional representatives in Washington.

In this the Huerta delegates expressed their willingness to discuss measures of peace with the Constitutionalists and bring to an end the civil strife which has been devastating their country for the last year. The Huerta delegation wrote in response to a note from the mediators, delivered to them as well as the American delegates, suspending the session of the mediation between the international conferences for the selection of a provisional president and the so-called problems of an internal character.

TROOPS REMAIN.
The disposition of the American forces now at Vera Cruz has been left for consideration until such time as the two factions agree upon the new provisional government. While the protocols already signed cover many phases of the international situation, it is generally recognized that until a provisional government is actually agreed on and a date set for the new government, American troops will not be withdrawn and internal questions not definitely settled.

The last note from General Carranza, which was in reply to a communication from the mediators dated June 21, was made public today.

"The confidential agency of General Carranza at Washington has replied to the note of the mediators addressed to him June 21, stating: 'The chief of the Constitutional government duly appreciates the noble purpose of the mediators in addressing him an invitation to treat directly with delegates of General Huerta on the organization of a provisional government capable of bringing about in a prompt and consistent manner the pacification of Mexico. For notwithstanding his good will to give to the country an organic and durable peace by any means which will not bring to naught the great sacrifices which the Mexican people have made in the present struggle, he is compelled to consult the opinion of the generals of the constitutional army before deciding on the appointment of delegates to confer on his behalf with those of General Huerta regarding the possibility of reaching an agreement putting an end to the war.'

CARRANZA'S PROMISE.
"This obligation arises from the promise made by Mr. Carranza and by all Constitutionalists faithfully to carry out the plan of Guadalupe, which proposes to restore the Constitutional order by means of a provisional president and which would be modified if such government were made to emanate from a possible agreement with the delegates of General Huerta as well as from his earnest desire that an agreement reached be strictly fulfilled."

"With this end in view and in furtherance of the efforts of the mediators to procure a peaceful solution of the struggle which the Mexican people have been compelled to sustain in the defense of its institutions, the first chief already has addressed the generals of the constitutional army in consultation and only desire to request the mediators to allow him a short period of time during which he hopes to receive answers from his companions in arms in order to appoint delegates to treat with the delegates of General Huerta."

MAKE NOTE PUBLIC.
After acknowledging General Carranza's note and informing him that the work of mediation would be resumed after he appointed delegates for the conference with the Huerta delegates, the mediators today made public the text of the communication to the chief of the constitutional party of Mexico. Mr. Carranza, has caused to be sent his reply to our communication of the 21st ultimo, of which we advised you at the full session of the 24th and wherein we invited him to appoint representatives to discuss and agree directly with the delegates of General Huerta of the provisional government.

"We have the honor to inform you that the representative at Washington of the chief of the constitutional party of Mexico, Mr. Carranza, has caused to be sent his reply to our communication of the 21st ultimo, of which we advised you at the full session of the 24th and wherein we invited him to appoint representatives to discuss and agree directly with the delegates of General Huerta of the provisional government."

Carranza duly appreciates the well inspired purpose of our mediation and is prompted by an earnest desire to see permanent peace established in Mexico, he feels nevertheless that he is compelled to consult the opinion of the generals of the constitutional army on the appointment of delegates. "Therefore, he adds, Mr. Carranza, has already addressed said generals, asking their counsel and only desires respectfully to request that he be allowed a short time within which he hopes to receive the replies from his companions in arms."

PRESENCE NOT REQUIRED.
"The undersigned believe that what remains to be done in the discharge of the task which it was their good fortune to initiate two months ago, does not at the present time require their presence at this place, and that the work—now a matter falling to the Mexican delegations—may be resumed without any inconvenience whatsoever, whenever the arrival of the representatives of the constitutional party is announced."

"Therefore the presence of the undersigned here during the days of the term referred to in the communication of the representative of Mr. Carranza would answer no useful purpose, but it is unnecessary to add that when the delegates arrive for the mediation, they will be able to coordinate the efforts of the two delegations to initiate their work. The mediators stand ready, wherever it may be, to continue to further, as they have promised, the work of approximation and accord which the patriotic efforts of said delegations will undoubtedly be able to consummate. Any notification from you may consequently be addressed to the ambassador of Brazil, Washington, D. C."

Justice Lamar, Frederick W. Lehmann and Dr. Bernard Dodge, diplomatic secretaries, comprising the American delegation to the mediation conference, prepared to leave for Washington tonight.

Minister Suarez will be the last of the mediation colony to depart. He may return to Washington tomorrow or Saturday.

FEW BRITONS LEAVE.
MEXICO CITY, July 2.—In spite of the insistent advice of Sir Lionel Gordon, the British minister, only 36 British subjects, mostly women and children, left for Vera Cruz today. They are on their way to Jamaica.

Several who had decided to leave were deterred from doing so at the last moment by the high rate of foreign exchange, the Mexican pesos today being worth only 27 cents in American money.

CAUGHT 1000 PRISONERS.
SALTILLO, Mexico, July 1, via Laredo, Texas.—General Huerta's Mexicanista Arias, who, with his brigade of 2000 men, formed a part of the force which took Zacatecas, reported today to General Carranza on his movements in the assault on that town in connection with General Villagran. General Arias said he captured more than 1000 prisoners.

VILLAREAL DELEGATE.
MEXICO CITY, July 2.—Antonio Villareal, governor of Nuevo Leon, will be one of the Carranza delegates who will meet General Huerta's commission in this city, according to a telegram received today at the headquarters of the division of the north. Villareal was reported as having left Saltillo yesterday and was expected here today.

WIFE USES CUDGEL; HE ALLEGES CRUELTY

That his wife, besides calling him names, was in the habit of striking him, once with a stick, and other wife inflicted mental and physical anguish on him, is the complaint of Max Benscheutz, who today filed suit for divorce in the Superior Court against Mrs. Benscheutz.

Mrs. Benscheutz was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce in the Superior Court on grounds of cruelty. An interlocutory decree was also granted to Marion E. Montgomery from Charles G. Montgomery, for failure to provide.

The case of Jesse B. Tott, suing Hazel Tott for divorce, was referred to Court Commissioner Clarence Craig.

WOULD LAND ON OAKLAND'S WHARF

Petition Seeks Berthing Here of Harvard With 800 Christian Endeavorers.

A petition to have the steamer Harvard land 800 Christian Endeavor excursionists at an Oakland wharf, when they come to attend a convention in Oakland July 8 to 12, has been drawn up by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce and will be circulated for signatures.

The berthing of the Harvard at an Oakland wharf would mean the first official landing of an express steamship in passenger service on Oakland's magnificent waterfront, the petition points out.

W. W. Keith, a member of the board of directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce, conferred with representatives of the Pacific Navigation Company in regard to the feasibility of having the Harvard land in Oakland and was informed that this might interfere with the running schedule of the company and did not appear practicable. The officials of the company will again be approached with a view to inducing them to alter the schedule so as to permit of the steamer coming to Oakland.

Both the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway Company and the Santa Fe company have offered docking accommodations on this side of the bay free of charge for the Harvard and also to assist in the expeditious landing and handling of the passengers and the only group appears to be in the running time of the steamer. The following is the petition:

"In view of the fact that the delegates from Southern California to the convention of the Christian Endeavor to be held in Oakland, July 8 to 12, have chartered the steamer Harvard from the Pacific Navigation Company for an ocean trip from Los Angeles to Oakland, and the further fact that the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway Company has agreed to permit the steamer to land at its pier without charge for dockage and to give every assistance in the expeditious landing and handling of passengers and baggage direct from Oakland's waterfront to the center of the city of Oakland, and the further fact that all other conditions seem favorable for such landing, we, undersigned, residents, business men, professional men, workers and officials of the city of Oakland, the center of a community of 200,000 people, hereby respectfully petition the Pacific Navigation Company to land the steamer conveying this party of 800 excursionists directly at a wharf on the magnificent waterfront of the city of Oakland, and thereby accomplish the first official landing of an express steamship in passenger service at a waterfront wharf where passengers and baggage will offer unsurpassed facilities for handling the commerce of the world."

MANUFACTURERS HEAR CO-OPERATION TALK

Co-operation by all east bay factories and business establishments to get business was the subject of a talk by John T. Scott, at the weekly luncheon of the manufacturers' committee. He will chair the Chamber of Commerce yesterday afternoon.

Hugh Craig, a member of the California League for Home Rule in Taxation, will be the speaker at tonight's meeting of the manufacturers' committee. He will discuss the home rule in taxation as it relates to the state constitution which is to be adopted on the November election. Craig is a student of property assessment and taxation problems.

ADDRESSES LEAGUE FOR HOME RULE IN TAXATION

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Father D. O. Crowley, founder of the Youth's Directory, was the principal speaker at the luncheon of the League for Home Rule in Taxation yesterday.

Father Crowley explained briefly the object of the League for Home Rule in Taxation and said that before 1881, the Youth's Directory was chiefly an employment bureau. Since then it has been chiefly an agency for rescue and reformatory work. The securing of employment has been continuous, but on a much larger scale and much more selective than in the early days.

For many years the Youth's Directory admission roll has averaged over 550 a year, often reaching 600 with a total enrollment of 14,550 on the records of the home.

Of the 14,550 cases just mentioned, he said, but less than 10 per cent of them have failed to become useful and supporting citizens as soon as they were old enough.

STORY OF THREAT IS LIGHT ON MURDER

SEX HYGIENE FEDERATION AIMS HARD BLOW AT VICE

START FIGHT FOR TEACHING OF YOUNG

Campaign Against Unfavorable Living Conditions Declared Necessary.

BERKELEY, July 2.—That society for its own preservation must launch at once a determined campaign against living conditions that make in their very essence for immorality and vice was the burden of several addresses delivered last evening at the University of California at the closing session of the Pacific Coast Federation for Sex Hygiene. The convention ended with the presentation of several resolutions that had been adopted urging broader instruction of the young in sex questions and the wider dissemination of social hygiene knowledge generally.

"The campaign which we must conduct," declared Dr. W. F. Snow, general secretary of the American Social Hygiene Association, under the auspices of which the final session was conducted, "must be aimed at three ends: The control of unsocial tendencies in men, the removal of feminine weakness and economic dependence and the abolition of commercialized vice."

NOT EASY TASK. "It is not possible that we shall be able to wipe out at once those world-old tendencies that have given rise to the problems which we have now to face. But this is the time for us to start it or we hope to eradicate the abuses of the centuries. The family, church and school must combine in contention against self-indulgence and luxury and in a determined war upon poverty, and must bring about a substitution for these deplorable conditions of healthful and normal activities."

"We can attack those unprincipled medical charlatans who are the human pests in this field as the mosquito is the pest in the field of malaria. We can fight the deadly influence toward immorality of alcohol. We can provide proper housing conditions so that a normal family life may be resumed by those who are now strangers to it. We can help to work for a normal cost of living to prevent the poverty and misery that are daily driving hundreds of our girls into the way of destruction."

Professor Thomas H. Reed of the department of political science of the University of California argued at some length in behalf of the red light abatement act.

MAY LIMIT EVIL. In the course of his address he said: "In attempting to curb the social evil we are starting upon a task that all history seems to show impossible of accomplishment. Yet we can at least do something to limit its evils. We can cure those modern faults of it which differentiate its present standing from its status in the past by driving out of it the commercialized feature. The social evil today is organized on a gigantic scale of industry. As in every other great business there is the buying end and there is the selling end. More bestially founded than in most other businesses is its department of advertising, finding expression in the cheap theater and the dance hall and the saloon.

"If we are unable to change the

Double Standard Merely a Fashion

Addressing the closing convention of the Pacific Coast Federation for Sex Hygiene.

University last evening, Dr. W. F. Snow, professor of epidemiology in the university, said: "It used to be very fashionable to get drunk. It was quite the vogue. Men did it on every possible occasion, even at church conferences, just because it was fashionable. In fact, so many Americans are neurotic today because they are the grandchildren or great-grandchildren of drunkards. But getting drunk is no longer considered the thing. At least not the fashionable thing. It is the women who have driven drunkenness out of fashion. They began to find that men who were fond of drinking were not fond of providing. With the feminine tendency toward choosing men who were good providers, they began to dodge the men who were not. They drove rampant drunkenness out of fashion."

"Now I want to ask the women of this country, how plain times. Just how long are you going to wait before you make the double standard of morals unfashionable? How long will it be before you make it unfashionable to marry your sweet and pure daughter to the man who has sowed his wild oats, because he happens to have a little money or a little social standing?"

hearts and consciences of men, we are left with the alternative of correcting the circumstances that have arisen through commercializing the evil tendencies to be found there. In California we have struck a sure blow at the evil with the red light abatement act. I, for one, shall support that act in November, and I wish the election law permitted my voting 'aye' to it several times.

IMPROVED CONDITIONS, CURE.

"But before we can hope to rid our communities of the social evil we shall have to substitute for the present economic chaos conditions of living that will permit right living. We must construe the lives of the people from whose midst the social evil is largely recruited so that they need not leave their work at night with no enjoyment ahead that has not drink and immorality as its basis. We must remove the miseries that poverty brings in its train, the cold and the hunger, the lack of normal pleasures and the want of social and bodily, that drive their victims to illicit indulgences as the only ready means of escape."

"We talk of sex instruction in the home and our very language predicates the existence of home. In what place is there a place in many of the slums and the poorer quarters of this country what sort of instruction looking toward decency and purity do you suppose can be given?"

At another angle was the talk given by Rev. Father Charles A. Ramm of St. Mary's Cathedral. His subject was "Dangers in the Social Hygiene Movement." He feared the results of too premature instruction of the young for its tendency to arouse emotions which there was still no strength of will to control.

TAKES EXCEPTION.

With Father Ramm, Mrs. May Cheney, appointment secretary of the university, took exception. She said: "This is not a question of 'putting sex instruction into the schools.' It is already there, taught by a corps of thousands of teachers whose training has been in the great and whose knowledge is the knowledge of shame and filth. It is a question of displacing these bad teachers by others, perhaps not perfect, but certainly better."

Dr. John N. Force spoke on the medical certificate bill and urged that examinations be made by physicians, salaried by the state, to prevent abuses by unscrupulous persons. Mrs. Inez C. Brown of Berkeley spoke in favor of both the red light abatement act and the "California" movement.

ADVOCATE ABATEMENT.

Resolutions presented early in the convention were read last evening as modified and adopted by a meeting of delegates held in the evening at the Hotel Carlton. The delegates receded from their earlier stand for the instruction in the schools of sex hygiene. The red light abatement act was endorsed. It was believed that sex instruction, when finally introduced into the schools, should be taught as a part of a general biological course.

In regard to red light abatement, the federation declared the social evil to be one of the greatest present menaces, that red light abatement laws have proved effective and that the federation fully endorses the principle of red light abatement laws adopted in other states and recommends such laws for Pacific coast states.

A conservative attitude in regard to the teaching of sex hygiene in the schools was expressed by all the delegates. While declaring their belief that the facts of sex ought to be taught, they decided that it is unwise to go on record at the present time as recommending the subject in the schools.

Resolutions were adopted recommending that the state appropriate funds for the education of the public on the dangers of venereal diseases; urging the formation of more social hygiene societies, and the inclusion in the programs of campaigns for the suppression of immorality; asking the postoffice department to assist in the suppression of quick specialists and Association to hold a national conference in San Francisco during the exposition.

LONG LOST SON IS RESTORED WENT AWAY TO BE A SOLDIER

Thought dead by his relatives, who had not heard of him for years, mourned for as lost in the Boer war by his mother, and spoken of to little nephews, born since his departure, as their soldier uncle, dead on the field of battle in South Africa, Jackson Rafael, former resident of

Mrs. Blanche Perry, whose brother, supposed dead, has been found, and her two sons, Frank (left)

Oakland, has been restored to his family through THE TRIBUNE.

Following his wanderings over the world, during which he lost track of his family through a mistake rivaling a situation in a novel, he finally returned to America crippled from wounds, and last week wrote THE TRIBUNE, seeking a trace of his lost relatives. His appeal was printed. Yesterday his sister, Mrs. Blanche Perry, communicated with THE TRIBUNE, giving all details of the family, and writing at once to her brother, who will shortly start for Oakland. He is now at Victoria, Texas.

Rafael left Oakland twenty-six years ago, sailing on the schooner Rosalita. In Africa he joined the British army. Throughout the Boer war he fought, was wounded, losing a hand in battle, and finally, returning to America, sought his lost kin.

The mystery was cleared by investigation at the postoffice. The family had been living at 1181 Magnolia street, and had removed to another section of the city. The postoffice, failing to locate their address, sent the letters to the Dead Letter office. In the meantime Rafael, going from place to place, could not be located, and his family concluded that he had been killed. He, in the meantime, imagined that they had left Oakland, but not being in America, saw no way of locating them.

A few weeks ago he returned to America, settling at Victoria. From that place he wrote to THE TRIBUNE, asking if the newspaper could find his relatives. His appeal was read by Mrs. Perry, who informed her mother, since married again and now Mrs. Henry Smith, of Richmond. His other relatives are also living in Oakland.

Mrs. Perry, who lives at 3259 Etliche street, wrote her brother this morning: "I and my mother are overjoyed," she declared. "We had given Jackson up as lost years ago. My mother almost fainted when I showed her THE TRIBUNE clipping telling of his safety. We are going to send for him at once."

Since Rafael has been away his sister, who was Miss Blanche Rafael, has been in Oakland. When her brother comes, he will greet several little nephews whom he never heard of.

WILLIAM II, IN PHYSICIAN GOT FEAR, SHUNS FUNERAL

Advisors Persuade Emperor to Abandon Vienna Trip for Archduke's Obsequies.

POTSDAM, Germany, July 2.—Fearful of an attempt to assassinate Emperor William, his advisors today succeeded in persuading the ruler to abandon his trip to Vienna to attend the funeral of the late Archduke Francis Ferdinand. It was given out that Emperor William was suffering from a severe cold, with symptoms of lumbago, but it is known here that yesterday's discovery that a widespread plot was responsible for the murder of the archduke, caused the change in plans.

TRIESTE HONORS DEAD.

TRIESTE, Austria, July 2.—An imposing demonstration today accompanied the landing here from the Austrian battleship Viribus Cautis of the bodies of the assassinated Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his consort, the Duchess of Hohenberg. The entire community, thronged the shore or took up positions on board ships in the harbor at an early hour. On the San Carlo a large space had been kept free for the two catafalques, which were draped in gold and black. On the left stood the generals and admirals and other officers of the army and navy, with the commander-in-chief of the Austrian-Hungarian navy, Rear Admiral Oskar Hansa, at their head. At the right was the governor of the marine province, Prince Hohenthohe Schillingsfurst, and many other state and municipal officials in brilliant decorations. There was an enormous gathering of members of various societies and deputations representing shipping, commerce and different trades. The clergy of all denominations had assembled and behind them was drawn up a naval guard of honor, while the whole square was lined by the students.

ARTILLERY AND CHURCH BELLS.

The two caskets, shrouded with national flags, were transferred from the battleship to a barge draped with black. This was towed by a tender to shore amid artillery salutes and the tolling of church bells. The guard of honor presented arms

On the strength of this information detectives continued to work on the theory that the assassin that on Tuesday night broke a window in the doctor's office, poked a revolver through the hole and fired the shot that killed Mrs. Bailey, a patient, had sought the doctor's life and not hers. In searching for a motive for the murder of Mrs. Bailey in the office of Dr. Carman, the police today are working on two theories.

One is that a lunatic killed Mrs. Bailey when shooting at Dr. Carman. The other theory is that a woman fired the shot.

Dr. Carman has served upon many lunacy commissions in Freeport, and the police believe some person who was committed to an asylum through the instrumentality of the doctor sought revenge and missed his aim. Upon what they based their theory that a woman committed the murder the police refused to state, but declared that they expected to make an arrest, probably today.

MYSTERY DEEPENS.

Investigation of the case yesterday and last night only served to deepen the mystery surrounding Mrs. Bailey's reason for calling upon Dr. Carman for medical advice when she might have sought a physician nearer her home in Hempstead, five miles from Freeport. The investigation also developed that Dr. Carman's wife had for weeks listened to his conversations with women patients by means of a telephone device. Mrs. Carman readily admitted having had the instrument installed because, she

MISS ADELE SCOTT, WHO HAS RETURNED FROM A VISIT TO PORTLAND AND SEATTLE.

LAUNDRY LATE; WOE

Bridegroom-to-Be Arrested Waiting for It

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The laundry failed to return a bundle to 1176 Ellis street on time yesterday afternoon and as a result Lillian Schabert, 18, and Edward Freeman, 20, are in jail.

They had intended to be married. They eloped from Portland. The chief of police of Portland sent a dispatch to the police here to arrest the couple.

Lillian Schabert is a pretty girl. She says she "lives" on romance. Freeman is the son of a wealthy real estate dealer there. Lillian was formerly a telephone operator. This is her story:

June. As soon as the ceremony was over I thought it was good time for Ed and me to get married.

"Ed isn't bashful, but he is stubborn. He wouldn't propose to any girl that thought he wanted him. I proposed to him. He accepted. He was coming to San Francisco. I said I would go, too. That afternoon I packed up and we started.

"We came down on the steamer Rose. We intended to be married on July 1 in San Jose. I wanted to be married on July 15 because, no, just because, that is all.

"We bought tickets yesterday for San Jose. Ed wanted to wait till his laundry came. I told him not to, but he insisted. While we were waiting the detectives met us and arrested us. I don't care. It's all just romance.

Ed wasn't so sure about the romance. He was rather scared and wanted to know if they would be taken back to Portland.

Detectives Richards and Barron got the letter from Portland yesterday and set out to look for the eloping couple. They saw Freeman on the street near his home. He was waiting for his laundry wagon. They arrested him.

Lillian Schabert had bought tickets under the name of Mabel Ash and Lillian Shaver for San Jose. She said she hoped to travel.

LOSES DOG AND HUSBAND, TEMPORARILY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Divided between her matrimonial and her kennel troubles, Mrs. Martha Van Ansell spent yesterday calling on the local police to aid her in prosecuting Captain Rex Ansell, her alleged husband, who, she said, had sent her out to the Pacific Coast only to desert her and marry another woman in London, and taking steps to keep her in possession "Baby Doll," a blue ribbon brindle bulldog, claimed by Charles H. Timney of this city.

Early in the morning she called on Lieutenant Arthur Layne of the police department, telling him that her husband, after going to Canada several months ago as representative of the Anglo-American Trust and Fidelity Company, sent for her to meet him in San Francisco. She did as she was told, but he failed to meet her and left her without a cent.

Later friends and relatives in England sent her letters and clippings from the London papers showing that her husband, masquerading as one "Harvel Wilson," had been arrested for obtaining money under false pretenses and was still in jail there. He was recognized in his cell as Captain Rex Ansell.

Mrs. Ansell told Lieutenant Layne that she was convinced that her husband played a trick on her by inducing her to make the trip from England to California to get rid of her and pave the way for his marriage to another woman.

On the strength of her representations the police sent a telegram to Scotland Yard giving the woman's statement and asking that funds be sent her to allow her to return to London and prosecute her husband.

BORROW INFANT; REMOVE "13" HOODOO

SACRAMENTO, July 2.—A woman in swaddling clothes saved the wedding breakfast of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Manner from being a failure here. When the wedding party sat down to the breakfast the observant bride counted thirteen guests but the bride's maid, standing at the feast and all the guests were unwilling to miss the fun.

Then one of the party thought of the baby next door. The mother's consent was gained and the youngster was propped up in a chair in the seat of honor, thereby removing the superstitions of the bride about "thirteen."

CONTRABAND FINERY BURNED WITH OPIUM

LOS ANGELES, July 2.—A great lot of rare plumage, bird of paradise feathers, eagles' wings, stuffed ducks, originally intended for presents from friends traveling in foreign lands, yesterday mingled in a strange pyre at the city incinerator, where the incense of the burning was supplanted by the pungent odor of contraband opium seized by the government and destroyed today under orders of the collector of the port.

All of the plumage and rare specimens of wild birds were seized by Collector J. B. Elliott under the federal laws, which forbid importations of this character.

GIRL IN AUTO, DOES LOCHINVAR ACT

PORTLAND, Ore., July 2.—When Lochinvar came out of the West he grabbed up his beloved, set her on his horse and galloped away to the parson's. In this day of the feminist movement elements are confused the other way around. Witness Frank Jackson and Miss Velma Letz, Woolery.

Jackson is a wealthy San Francisco broker and the son of Charles Gordon Jackson, a capitalist of that city. Miss Woolery—that was—his daughter of the late J. Woolery of Oreg.

The two met three years ago on the edge of one of those volcanoes in Hawaii. They fell in love with each other right there; but things sort of dragged along until last.

"Let's get married," said Jackson. Miss Woolery said all right, and the two jumped into her motor car, Miss Woolery at the wheel.

It was about 4:30 when they started.

last Thursday afternoon. Among the guests were Mrs. Kent Marshall, Mrs. Rose Kelley, Mrs. E. L. Morrison, Mrs. J. Murphy, Mrs. A. A. Collins, Mrs. A. G. Griffin, Mrs. Julia Kimmer, Mrs. J. D. Norris and Miss Leonora Norris.

Madame Isbell's Beauty Lesson

EFFECT OF ILL HEALTH ON THE EYES—Part I.

The network of facial nerves and muscles lying about the eyes is quickly affected by several forms of ill health. Any eye strain will make a net work of tiny wrinkles over the lids and about the eyes; certain forms of indigestion will not only make the whites of the eyes yellow, but will trace the same about the eye balls, and puffiness about the eyes and bagging skin beneath them is a sign of indigestion of some kind or of bladder trouble or the after result of a serious condition of ill health. It would be folly to begin treating locally any one of these beauty troubles without trying to get at the cause for it and overcoming that. Unfortunately, the effects of ill health show on the face even after the health is restored to the normal and in such cases beauty treatment should be taken up systematically.

Puffy Eyelids.

Women who burn the candle at both ends, or even at the wrong end, are apt to find a reminder of this fact in a puffiness about the eyes. Late hours, the wrong kind of food, breathing impure air are all conducive to this condition as well as some forms of ill health. As the skin relaxes puffy eyelids are apt to be followed by wrinkles and a shriveled condition of the skin and the same general ill treatment applies to both. The skin needs to be firm and it needs to be strengthened so it will be less inclined to fall into wrinkles.

CHICO WOMAN MISSING, PLOT IS FEARED

CHICO, July 2.—Mrs. Frank Duensing, who disappeared simultaneously with Elmer Howard, foreman of Wendell Miller's ranch at Pentz, is thought by relatives to have been either slain or is a victim of a white slave conspiracy. The theory that the two eloped is doubted. She had gone to Oroville to shop, and disappeared from there.

NAVAL LIEUTENANT ACCUSED BY GIRL

SEATTLE, July 2.—Miss Lulu Freburger, a bookkeeper, has filed a suit against Lieutenant James P. Olding of the United States navy, charging that he forced unwelcome attentions upon her and finally, on July 30 last, attacked her. Lieutenant Olding is a married man, living with his family in Denny way, this city.

MOVIES ACTRESS AND CAMERA MAN DROWN

CANYON CITY, Col., July 2.—Miss Grace McHugh, leading lady of a motion picture company, and Owen Carter, camera man, were drowned in the Arkansas river yesterday while the company was producing a feature picture. Miss McHugh was fording the river on horseback, and was thrown into the water. Carter tried in vain to save her.

BEAUTIFUL REST

(By Lillian Russell)

Copyright, By LILLIAN RUSSELL.

IN this active life few people stop long enough to rest, and rest means recuperation. A doctor told me many years ago that if every busy woman would rest one whole day out of every two weeks she would never be ill, nor would she grow old. I have always remembered that, and have followed the rule as faithfully as I possibly could.

That rest does not mean simply remaining in the house receiving company, nor reading an exciting rest properly and effectively one should remain in bed twenty-four hours. After taking a good bath at night and having perfectly fresh linen put on the bed, and on one's self, sleep as long as possible, then upon awakening take another bath and change all of the linen again. Eat a light breakfast, read a little, write no letters and see no company. Keep the room cool and sleep as much as possible during the day. When you get up in the evening have a cold sponge bath and dress for dinner, or supper, eat lightly, and go out of doors immediately after dinner, take the meal, to the theater, or for a walk, to church, or for a drive. You will be refreshed and rested for days afterward.

Many women take such restful occasions to make up their household accounts, or sit at a telephone and gossip with their friends, or lie in bed and receive their women friends at tea. There is no rest in such actions. Real rest is relaxation of mind and body, and when both can be accomplished at the same time the best results will be attained.

Even perfectly well women owe it to themselves to take a whole day's rest occasionally. It is not a sign of weakness; it takes strength of mind to rest properly. Sitting up in bed is not rest; one should lie down in a sleeping position, and occasionally flat upon the back without pillows. That position allows the blood to circulate properly from head to foot. Keep the room as dark as possible, and try to drive all unpleasant thoughts or responsibilities out of your mind just for that one day. That is difficult to do, for when you are alone and relaxed the mind generally rushes to your responsibilities, turns them over, and dissects them. But for one day you must drive them away, and think only of pleasant things. You will be surprised how different all things will seem to you after resting the mind and body thoroughly. Things which seemed difficult before will be trifles, and things that bored you will interest you afresh.

they kill themselves, is the opinion of the modern scientist.

Answers to Queries.

ANNXIOUS—If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope I shall be happy to send you treatment for pimples, blackheads, and open pores. I shall also send you a formula for face bleach.

MISS MY—I know of no permanent dye for the lashes and brows. Vaseline will gradually darken them, but of course it will take some time. Care must be taken not to get the vaseline into the eyes.

BEATRICE—If you will apply a good cold cream to your face before putting on the powder you will find that the powder will not come off so easily. Apply a little cold cream, take off the excess with a soft cloth, and then apply the powder. If you will send me a stamped addressed envelope I shall be happy to send you a formula for an astringent lotion for an oily complexion.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

THIS is the caution applied to the public announcement of Castoria that has been manufactured under the supervision of Chas. H. Fletcher for over 30 years—the genuine Castoria. We respectfully call the attention of fathers and mothers when purchasing Castoria to see that the wrapper bears his signature in black. When the wrapper is removed the same signature appears on both sides of the bottle in red. Parents who have used Castoria for their little ones in the past years need no warning against counterfeits and imitations, but our present duty is to call the attention of the younger generation to the great danger of introducing into their families spurious medicines.

It is to be regretted that there are people who are now engaged in the nefarious business of putting up and selling all sorts of substitutes, or what should more properly be termed counterfeits, for medicinal preparations not only for adults, but worse yet, for children's medicines. It therefore devolves on the mother to scrutinize closely what she gives her child. Adults can do that for themselves but the child has to rely on the mother's watchfulness.

Letters from Prominent Druggists addressed to Chas. H. Fletcher.

Central Drug Co., of Detroit, Mich., says: "We consider your Castoria in a class distinct from patent medicines and commend it."

Christy Drug Stores, of Pittsburg, Pa., say: "We have sold your Castoria for so many years with such satisfactory results that we cannot refrain from saying a good word for it when we get a chance."

Jacob Bros., of Philadelphia, Pa., say: "We take pleasure in recommending Fletcher's Castoria as one of the oldest and best of the preparations of the kind upon the market."

Hess & McCann, of Kansas City, Mo., say: "Your Castoria always gives satisfaction. We have no substitute for it and only sell 'The Kind You Have Always Bought,' the original."

The Voegell Bros., of Minneapolis, Minn., say: "We wish to say that we have at all times a large demand for Fletcher's Castoria at all of our three stores and that it gives universal satisfaction to our trade."

Polk Miller Drug Co., of Richmond, Va., says: "Your Castoria is one of the most satisfactory preparations we have ever handled. It seems to satisfy completely the public demand for such an article and is steadily creating a growing sale by its merit."

P. A. Capdan, of New Orleans, La., says: "We handle every good home remedy demanded by the public and while our shelves are thoroughly equipped with the best of drugs and proprietary articles, there are few if any which have the unexcelled sale that your Castoria has."

M. C. Dow, of Cincinnati, Ohio, says: "When people in increasing numbers purchase a remedy and continue buying it for years; when it passes the test of experimental usage and becomes a household necessity, then it can be said its worth has been firmly established. We can and do gladly offer this kind of commendation to Fletcher's Castoria."

New Infielder Comes From Murray Club as First Move in Shake-Up of Oaks

A BUSY INDEPENDENCE DAY SCHEDULED IN BOXING GAME

No Titles at Stake in This Country, but Many Stars Will Scintillate.

(By THE TIMEKEEPER.)

Festivities scheduled for the near future one would hardly gather that there is any reason for bringing out crepe for the ancient game of boxing. In fact, the game is apparently becoming more popular. Originated in England, the game came naturally to the United States and Australia, but now the European nations have taken it up, and from accounts of the recent Moran-Johnson bout the French have taken the mantle of self-defense as a fad.

The usual activity in the sport that is marked by the fourth of July has also spread to foreign countries, and there are no less than eight bouts of national interest on the cards for our nation's birthday, besides several bouts a few days before or after.

Willie Ritchie-Fredde Welsh is, of course, the biggest battle of the lot, and opinion seems to be that there is a great chance of the title going across the water on July 7th, when the lightweight representatives of England and America meet at the National Sporting Club.

Next in importance probably comes the matches involving the four most likely contenders for the middleweight honors. Billy Murray and George Chip, both claim the middleweight honors, as well as do Jimmy Clabby and Eddie McGorry. When the fourth of July has passed, and these two matches have been settled, there is a great probability that the winners will be matched for the middleweight throne which was left vacant by the death of Stanley Ketchel.

The meeting of Joe Rivers and Ad Wolgast promised to be a great treat for the Los Angeles fans, but the hard luck which has followed the Michigan Wildcat since he took the championship from Nelson dropped again, and a youngster by the name of Mattie McCue has been substituted for Wolgast. McCue is 19 years old, has fought fifty battles and has never been knocked down. He recently made a good go against Mandot.

Joe Mandot and Johnny Dundee, both lightweights of the first water, meet in New Orleans on the fourth, and the fans of the southern city claim to have the best bout of the bunch for speed and cleverness. Both are real lightweights, well under the 133-pound limit, and each has won a left hand that even Charlie White has nothing on. The "Baker Boy" is going better now than for the last six months, and with a little luck he may pull through even. But if Dundee fights his usual battle, he will win "pulled up," due to his jabbing powers.

Announcements from the different parts of the country also bring reports that Abe Attell is to box. Abe has never announced his intention of retiring, although the fans conceded that he had retired quite a while ago. The opponent who has been picked for the ex-champion is Chick Hayes.

HEAVY-HITTING PLAYER GRABBED FROM UNION ASSOCIATION

William Mendes, Oakland Boy, Will Be Worked at Second Base.

As the first step in the contemplated re-organization of the Oakland club, Mendes, a former player of the Murray club, has been purchased outright, transportation has been telegraphed him and he will report here Monday ready for an Oakland uniform.

Mendes is an Oakland boy. Three years ago Harry Wolverton gave him a try out but deemed him hardly mature enough for that time. Since then, the Oakland where Joey Tobin and other like youngsters got their start. Last year Mendes was a member of the Murray club of 1911. This year he has hit .323 and fielded .967, scoring 41 runs in 47 games. He has been hitting second and is credited with more two baggers than any other player in the league, indicating that he is a speed pitcher.

McLoughlin was scheduled to reach Los Angeles this morning and will spend a week in practice with Thomas A. Bundy, with whom he holds the national doubles championship.

DIAMOND FLASHES

After the bad start Standridge made in Tuesday's game, Howard sent him in to pitch yesterday's season. Calgary Pats pitched great ball and really drove the Wolves to 4 hits and was steady throughout the game.

Claude Williams, a recent acquisition of the Oaks from the Southern Association, pitched a great game from his left standpoint, allowing the Oaks but three safeties. He was, however, unsteady, allowing the Oaks two of which were second base hits.

Corhan's wild throw to first allowed Lynn to reach second in the third inning, and a moment later, after Young had been hit by a rich ball, he allowed the runners to advance, fumbling the ball while trying to catch Young stealing. Pete Standridge then made the mistake of the game, handing a grooved one to Bert Coy. Coy stung the ball for two bags, driving in Lynn and Young. Neither of the scoring men should have been there.

CAN'T SHAKE HIM

MURRAY ENDS HIS ACTIVE TRAINING FOR NEXT SATURDAY'S TEST

Chip, With Pound Over Weight, Will Continue Boxing Till Day of Scrap.

(By THE TIMEKEEPER.)

George Chip has yet to take off one pound, but figures that he could do this in a few hours if necessary. Chip will continue his boxing today and tomorrow, taking no time off right up to the eve of the battle. His manager, Jimmy Dime, says that George is a fretful nature and needs something to occupy his mind right up to the time of entering the ring.

The betting on the Chip-Murray fight is lively rapidly, several good-sized bets being recorded in San Francisco at the prevailing odds of 10-4.

There is not much betting at present on the Ritchie-Welsh match, but some small wagers at even money have been reported. It is said there is some Ritchie money that can find no takers, so it is likely the local lad will be placed a slight favorite over the Englishman in the near future.

In addition to the 15-round bout between Ritchie and Welsh, which Promoter Rohan has scheduled for the 15th of this month, Willie Fitzsimmons has been matched with Frankie Malone, the Olympic Club featherweight champion, for a 10-round special event. This will be Frankie's first appearance in the professional ranks. As an amateur, he has enjoyed the same popularity in the San Francisco ring as the late Tom Brannan.

Willie Ritchie has already put in six days of work for his bout, according to a dispatch received yesterday. Willie is boxing with Willie Farrell and Dick Roberts, two of the best welterweights in England, and Kid Black, a recent arrival from America.

Joe Azevedo has been offered a bout with Babe Picato for July 15th. Mattie McCue was originally scheduled to box with Picato, but his engagement with Rivers will preclude that meeting. Azevedo has decided not to accept the date, in view of his coming bout with Charlie White.

Johnny Coulton, in the role of referee, last night gave Johnny O'Leary the decision over Frenchy Valse, after a fast 15-round contest. Dispatches say that it was an unpopular decision, as the Benton boy should have had a draw.

"All Aboard" for Dixie Queen

Nothing like a good satisfying chew or a rich, fragrant smoke to keep your nerves steady and your head clear. Street car men are about the busiest lot of fellows on earth. Starting—stopping—watching traffic—taking care of passengers—something's going on every minute.

It would be a tough job for them if they didn't have their DIXIE QUEEN to smooth out the kinks; but it's "All Aboard for the Contentment Avenue Line" when they use this rich, mellow, satisfying tobacco.

DIXIE QUEEN Plug Cut Tobacco

is made from pure old Burley tobacco, aged from three to five years so as to bring out its full ripe flavor and rich fragrance.

Most sturdy, live men won't use any other brand, once they've tried DIXIE QUEEN—because no other brand has the snap, the taste and the honest sweetness of DIXIE QUEEN. It gives you big, juicy satisfaction such as you get out of a good square meal.

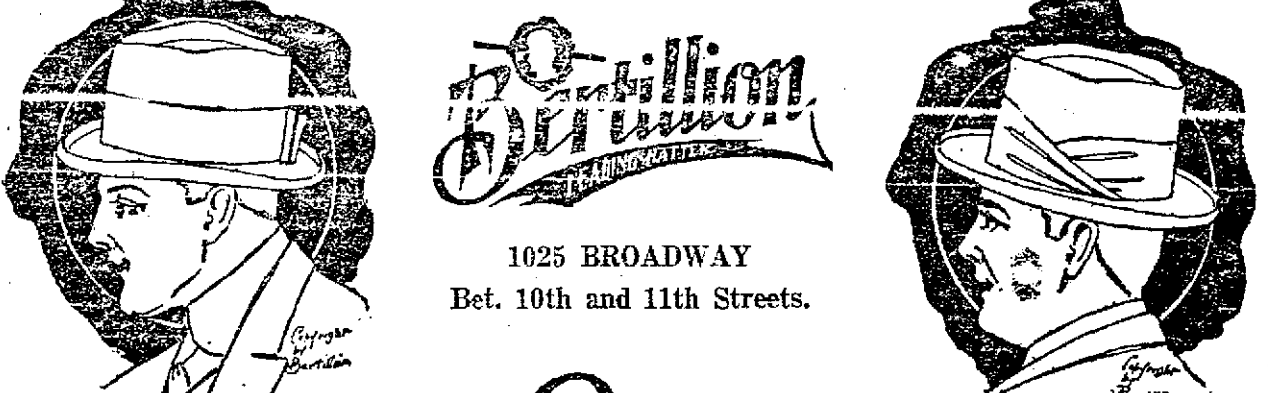

"Mind your step"—get aboard DIXIE QUEEN for a week's trial of chewing and smoking, and you'll never stop.

Sold everywhere in convenient 5c full packages—also in 10c pouches and 50c lunch boxes.

MAY GET CHANCE TO 'MAKE GOOD'

E. Christensen, Who Assaulted Mother-in-Law, Is Likely to Win Probation.

Despite a report from the probation officer urging that probation be denied, Superior Judge William H. Donahue took under consideration for probation the case of E. Christensen, cousin of Attorney T. L. Christensen, who was accused of assaulting his mother-in-law, Mrs. Luella Beck, and who asked a chance to reform.

I feel that in the case of a man who drinks there is a great chance to make good," declared Donahue, "especially as he has never been in trouble before. I feel that he might afford a good probation risk."

"Such men do make the best probation risks," declared Deputy Probation Officer L. D. Compton.
"The man's trouble is due to two factors, liquor and his relationship to his wife's relatives," declared Assistant District Attorney James Koford, "and I believe the case might be further looked into."

The case was laid over until next Tuesday, during which the district attorney and probation officers will investigate, and following their final report a decision will be made. According to Attorney George McDonough the man throughout the entire trouble had supported his children. Christensen was convicted of having assaulted his mother-in-law, following a quarrel in their home. The woman had him arrested.

PENNIMAN HEIRS SEEK ADMINISTRATION LETTERS

It was Penniman who placed into commerce the first smokeless shotgun powder and who consolidated several of the new great Dupont plants.

BRIDE OF PACIFIC, SHE GETS WEDDING SEND-OFF

When the liner Wilhelmshafen sailed yesterday for Honolulu a trail of rice across the pier and up the gangplank led to a stateroom lined with more than $500 worth of flowers, a fair proportion of them orchids.

And whose do you think that stateroom was?
The bride of the Pacific!

At any rate, that is what the friends of Miss Ida May Brauer thought, and all there's not a hint of another bridegroom than old Neptune.

Miss Brauer, an educationist, formerly on Mills college faculty, is off to Honolulu for a two months vacation, in which the sea will take a large part. That's where the nickname came from.

These are some of the things in Miss Brauer's luggage:

A one piece swimming suit.
Yachting costume.
Fishing apparatus.
Tennis duds.
Riding costume.
"I'm going to do everything any one else does down there," she said, "and a few other things besides."
